NAYS—1.

Patterson, F. W.,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House has passed it without amendment.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1157, (Senate Bill No. 136), entitled:

An Act to amend sections two three four five six and eight of an act approved the seventh day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws one hundred fifty-one) entitled "An act defining and regulating the business of dry cleaning and dyeing providing for the maintenance construction and inspection of dry cleaning and dyeing buildings and establishments providing for enforcing the act and penalties for violation thereof" by requiring the filing of more detailed plans of proposed buildings and changing building requirements and the method of enforcing the provisions of the act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. HOWE. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1157 (Senate Bill No. 136), file folio 303, be placed upon the postponed calendar.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 917, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and ninety-eight) entitled "An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and certain existing and certain new administrative departments boards commissions and officers abolishing combining changing the names of reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards commissions bureaus divisions offices and agencies defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards and commissions fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined" further reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof the existing administrative departments a new administrative department to be known as the Department of Revenue and certain existing and certain new administrative boards commissions and officers abolishing changing the names or terms of reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative boards commissions bureaus offices and agencies reorganizing the Department of Internal Affairs modifying the powers and duties of the Governor and certain other executive and adminsitrative officers and of certain administrative departments boards and commissions and defining the powers and duties of certain existing and certain new administrative departments boards commissions and officers increasing the salaries of certain executive and administrative officers and providing for the appointment of and fixing the compensation of or prescribing the manner in which compensation shall be fixed for certain additional administrative officers and of and for the deputies and other assistants and employes in the Department of Internal Affairs the Department of Revenue and in certain existing and certain new administrative boards and commissions

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading.

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SARIG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the bill now before us is now an ordinary piece of legislation. It is a bill with such far reaching effect that I feel it should be carefully considered before we pass a vote upon it. In the first place it is a salary raiser. In the second place it is a centralization of power, and in the next place it is one of the worst rippers that has ever been in this Legislature since I have been here, and I have been a member of this body for twelve years. You all know that during the past year so high an official even as President Coolidge has on several occasions warned the people of this country against the everlasting tendency to take the local government first and hand it over to the county, take the county government away and hand it over to the state and finally take the preogatives of the state and hand them over to the National Government. I remember on the eleventh of March, only a few weeks ago, that the Lieutenant-Governor of this Commonwealth, in a speech down at Reading declared very strongly against this kind of centralization. If I had been led into the room blindfolded and listened to that speech, and did not know who was speaking, I would have been justified in believing that it was Pat Harrison or some other fiery Southern democrat who was speaking. Only a few days later Governor Fisher himself in the Penn-Harris hotel, at the dinner of the Legislative Sons of Saint Patrick, also warned aganist this tendency to centralize, I remember he made this expression, "We have gone away beyond anything that Alexander Hamilton himself ever dreamed of," and he warned, it is only a few weeks ago as many of you will remember, and he made a very eloquent address, I thought a splendid address, and I want to commend him for it, the same as I want to commend the Lieutenant Governor for the stand he has taken against this everlasting idea, against continuing centralizing; against taking away everything local and handing it over from one to the other until we have almost a full autocracy. Now, here is a bill that again creates a new department here on the hill, thereby making the collection or centralizing here the collection of all state taxes. I want to call your attention for a minute to page 113, line 4, section 78. Listen to this:

"The terms of the members of the boards of trustees of state institutions in office at the date of the approval of this act shall expire at the end of sixty days after the approval hereof."

That means that sixty days after this act has been approved everyone of these state boards will automatically by one sweep of the hand be wiped out of office. In all the twelve years that I have been here there has not been a ripper as vicious as this one, and yet that is buried in this bill perhaps with the expectation that it would get away unnoticed.

Further, I want to read the following lines:

"The provision of this act creating the office of Secretary of Revenue shall become effective on November first one thousand nine hundred twenty-eight, on or after which date the Governor may appoint such secretary to enable him to prepare to organize the department of revenue," and so on.

Now, why is this time at the end of 1928? I ask you to consider this. Is this intended merely to make a job for a present state job holder? Is this intended merely to create a berth at $12,000. a year for somebody who is now not having a good enough job or a berth, that they must create it so that when he steps out of one office he can step directly into another one. Now, we have heard speeches time and again from the President on down, the Governor, the Lieutenant Govenor and men in high official life all over this country, in both parties, both in the Democratic and Republican Party against this idea of centralizing, I mean this idea of taking away the power out of the hands of the people, taking away their local government, to centralize it into a few hands, and yet we have bill after bill up in this Legislature doing just that very thing. I think the time is here when we ought to stop talking one way and voting the other. We ought to vote as we speak, and we ought to vote as we advocate when we are out in public.

Only a few days ago, probably a week ago, the Senator from Lehigh, Senator Schantz, made a speech in Philadelphia, in which he said, "We were ninety-nine percent errand boys and one percent legislators." Now, there is perhaps only too much truth in that because of the fact that we have gone on centralizing, and centralizing, and centralizing. In fact today a great many of the members of this House dare not even open their mouth; they dare not say a word, they are gagged, they are tied down, and they are not permitted to stand up and express their convictions. Now, are we going to continue this, are we going to continue to centralize and centralize until the power is all vested in the hands of one or two men in this Commonwealth? You know well enough that it is a fact. The newspapers say it every day, and I want to say there is no set of men in this state who have a keener judgment, a keener insight into the political affa,irs of this Commonwealth than the newspaper boys who sit down in front, and if you read their articles that go out from Harrisburg day after day, why you read every day that one or two men dictate the policy of this Legislature. It is every day that you see the statement, "The gentleman from Pittsburgh says this bill shall pass." The next day he turns around and says, "It shall not pass", and so on. The word goes out over the Commonwealth that the gentleman from Pittsburgh says a bill will be enacted into law here and there is nobody here it seems in this House that has the courage to stand up and deny it. In fact by their very actions they confirm practically everything that he says and advocates; you practically admit the fact. The public so understands it. Time and again the people back home call my attention to this fact by saying, "Why you are only a set of school boys up there. What are you doing up there, you members of the Legislature." I read the other day that Mr. Mellon makes the laws, and I read that perhaps Mr. Grundy helps to make them. One or two men make the laws in this state. Yet that is an actual condition, you know it to be a fact and every newspaper man knows it to be a fact. Now, are we going to continue this; are we going to go out among the people when we go out and make public speeches and say, "we are opposed to centralizing; we are in favor of letting the people rule; in favor of giving them the government into their own hands," and then we come up here and bring in bill 917 which takes away the rights of the people at home, centralizing it here and creating another bureau. Of all the political organizations on this continent there is not another one as strong and as autocratic as the very organization that rules and endorses this bill. You can go from the North Pole to Cape Horn and you cannot point out another organization that is so strongly centralized as this government right here in Harrisburg, in the capitol of Pennsylvania. Of course, other states have their organizations too, New York has its Tammany, but in New York the conditions are different, upstate is always against it. But here is an organization that extends from the Delaware River to the Ohio state line, from the New York State line down to Maryland, a monstrous organization, 19,000 men on the payroll, according to the Civil Service Association of Pennsylvania, with a payroll of $19,000,000 a year, and here you have one or two men standing at the helm and telling this Legislature what laws they may pass and what laws they may not pass. Why, it is almost a shame to stand up on the Fourth of July and make a patriotic speech and talk about this glorious and free America. You ought to talk about this glorious and free autocracy; this glorious and free plutocracy here in Pennsylvania; when we have arrived at a condition like this when even the Governor of the state is inveighing against centralization, when the Lieutenant-Governor inveighing against it, when practically everyone else is inveighing against it, here you come with a bill like 917 and you say, "Let us keep on centralizing. Let us rip out of office those that we don't want." This is one of the worst rippers, as I said a moment ago that has ever been before this Legislature. I want you to think over this seriously. If you want to pass it, all right, but I don't want you to pass it without having your attention called to what this bill really does.

Mr. KAHLE. Mr. Speaker, The great statesman Patrick Henry said: "Give me liberty or give me death."

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House I was told several days ago that the gentleman from Berks was anxious to make a political speech and I am glad that he has had the chance to get it off his chest at last. He has spoken on everything for several minutes except on Bill No. 917. He tells you that this bill is a centralization of power. There is nothing in this bill that makes for a centralization of power. You all know as well as I do that there has been no one who has opposed centralization of power more than I have on the floor of this House. The only way that they can raise the question is, as to the Secretary of revenue or the department of revenue. If the department of revenue is a centralization of power, then you have that at the present time in the Auditor General. This bill simply takes out of the Auditor General's department the collection of taxes, and transfers that part of that department to a department of revenue and that is the only change that this bill makes. It takes away from none of your townships, counties or municipalities the collection of any tax or the collection of any revenue whatever. As I say, it takes from the auditor General's Department the collection of taxes for the revenue of the State. It was never intended under the Constitution that the Auditor General's Department should be a tax collecting office. The Auditor General is just what the terms implies, the Auditor of accounts, but from time to time there have been taxes to be collected and it has only been in the last few years that the revenue collected by this office has amounted to the enormous amount that it does. It is believed by those best acquainted with conditions that the time has arrived when a bureau to study the collection of taxes and revenues and what is necessary in the collection of these revenues should be established to give the Commonwealth the greatest advantage possible and that that advantage would be in a bureau such as this. My friend from Berks is so far behind the times that you can hardly think that he is living in this century. We are about the only State in the eastern part of the Union which does not have a department of revenue and taxes at the present time. New York State is so far ahead of us that is has had a tax commission for the past ten years. Now it is the same here, we are trying to keep up with the times, but of course there are some people who cannot keep up, they want to lag behind. As far as salary raisers are concerned, there are three salaries raised in this bill, and only three. When the gentleman speaks about the State Treasurer's and the Auditor General's salary being raised, evidently he don't remember the bill which he voted for himself not many years ago which raised that salary to $12,000. The present salary in this bill. On the other hand the Insurance Commissioner is raised from $7500. to $10,000. The Secretary of Mines is raised from $6,000. to $10,000, and the Commissioner of Fisheries from $4,000. to $6,000. Now, when it comes to each of these officers, the fees collected by these departments pay the salaries, they are all paid by fee and do not come out of the general fund. These are the only salary raisers there are in this bill, and so far as the centralization of power is concerned, there is no such a thing in the bill. Now this is an administration bill, as has already been told you, and the purpose of the bill is to correct the evils which we believe exist in the administrative code of 1923. When that was passed I objected to it at the time and I opposed its passage. This bill places back in the hands of the Secretary of Internal Affairs the power which was taken away at that time, and therefore instead of being a centralization of power, it is a division of power so far as the State government is concerned.

Mr. DAVIDSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I will Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DAVIDSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman explain the schedule in section 78, page 113.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I did not hear the gentleman's interrogation.

Mr. DAVIDSON. Mr. Speaker, On page 113, section 78, there is a schedule, "the terms of the members of the boards of trustees of state institutions in office at the date of the approval of this act shall expire at the end of sixty days after the approval hereof." I wish the gentleman would explain to the House the way that is done.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, It has been thought by the appropriation committee and by the sub-committee of the appropriation committee in visits to the State hospitals and the state institutions, that there have been appointed in some of these state institutions, trustees who are not, in our opinion, the proper persons to be trustees, trustees who displaced high class citizens of this Commonwealth and it was our idea that evry board of trustees in the state owned institutions, that their term should expire within sixty days after the passage of this act in order that the Governor might displace these people with people whom he believed to be the proper person to care for these institutions, thus relieving the Governor of the duty of discharging some of these persons who are not fit to act as trustees in these institutions.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, This bill was originally referred to the Judiciary General Committee. There seemed to be an impression scattered among the members of the committee that the real intent and purpose of this bill was to abolish the office of the Register of Wills in the State of Pennsylvania. In order that the Register of Will's Office should be conducted as in the past, and that the office should so continue in the future, various amendments were presented to the Committee. I was the chairman of the subcommittee, and I can say that the bill in no manner, shape or form disturbs the Register of Wills' office. It does not in any way affect the Auditor General of Pennsylvania, and it is a well known fact that there is no office throughout the United States which has a more efficient and competent system of running the revenues of the state than the Auditor General's office of the State of Pennsylvania. With the amendments that were inserted in this bill, it particularly does not do as the gentleman from Berks and others are of the opinion that it does, a centralization of power, but it merely recommends to the session of 1929 whether or not there shall be a department of revenue. This bill is merely for your thought, for you to determine between now and the 1929 session whether or not there shall be a department of revenue. It is merely a bill giving you constructive ideas. The sub-committee and the committee as a whole has viewed this bill in its entirety and believe that it is a step forward. We ask you to go along with the program of the administration in passing this bill.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Marcus, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. Speaker, I would like the gentleman to point out where the amendment is in this act that will not disturb the method of the Register of Will's office functioning as it does now in the matter of the collection of taxes.

Mr. MARCUS. Mr. Speaker, I did not understand the gentlemen's interrogation.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. I understand you to say that the amendments were offered that cause this act to be so enforced as to not disturb the method of the collection of taxes by the Rigister of Wills.

Mr. MARCUS. That is correct.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Where is that amendment?

Mr. MARCUS. That amendment is inserted in the bill on page 110.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. You refer to section 2401 A.

Mr. MARCUS. That is correct.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. With all due deference to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, and the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Marcus, I am far from being convinced that the section of the act which he cites will do as he says. Let me read it for the members of the House.

> "Section 2401-A Collection of Taxes and Fees The Department of Revenue shall have the power and its duty shall be
> "(a) To collect all taxes and fees payable to the Commonwealth or to any department board or commission thereof and for that purpose to have and possess such powers as shall be conferred upon the department by the General Assembly at its session held in the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine"

Now I say in all fairness that that section certainly gives this commission the power and the right and the authority to collect these taxes as they see fit. It certainly removes all the power that the Register of Wills have at the present time, and I believe that under this section this commission can appoint its own officers. They certainly would have the right to appoint the officials they desire to collect the taxes, and it takes out of the hands of the Registers of Wills elected in the various counties the right at least to suggest and see that a competent man is appointed. I do not think that the amendment has been inserted, that was promised to us back in the Committee woud be inserted, to take care of the present method of collecting taxes, especially by the Register of Wills. If I am not mistaken, I wish the gentleman from Delaware would point out to me the amendment.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House if the gentleman would read his section correctly I think he would be of a different opinion. I hope he has the right file folio, 3797. Now, if he will follow me; "to collect the taxes and fees payable to the Commonwealth or to any Department, Board or Commission thereof, and for that purpose to have and possess such powers as shall be conferred upon", now drop down to the nineteenth line, "the department by the General Assembly at its session held in the year 1929". Under this present act that Department has no power whatever and the only power it can receive is by an act of the Assembly of 1927 which will be an enabling act and give to it is power. At that time this Legislature can see to it that the proper powers are given to it as the Legislature sees fit. The only reason at the present time this Department is created, the office of Auditor General which will expire before we come back here again and have a right to act, and therefore the Department during the present term before the next Auditor General is elected this Department is created and it is only the creation of this Department. If this act gives the right to the Department or that secretary to appoint who he pleases then the Auditor General at the present time has the right to appoint who he pleases and we all know that the Act of 1919 which this act does not disturb in any way whatever, provides distinctly that the Register of Wills of the several counties shall be the collectors of the inheritance taxes through the Auditor General's Department and they shall receive certain fees as prescribed in the act of 1919, and this act in no way disturbs that or gives this Department any power whatever, and as I read to you here they cannot have any power until 1929 when the enabling act will be passed.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal

Session 1927 — 127th of the General Assembly

Vol. 10 — HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MARCH 29, 1927. — No. 31

SENATE.

TUESDAY, March 29, 1927.

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Arthur H. James) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. W. W. Hall, offered the following prayer:

We invoke Thy divine blessing upon the opening of this session. Grant us the leading of Thy spirit. Like the statesman of old we would exclaim, "Thou art good, O Lord. The earth is Thine and the fullness thereof." And we are happy because of Thy goodness.

Guide us this day by Thy wisdom. Save us from ourselves. And we will give Thee the praise, in the name of Him who died for us. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mrs. VARE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PETITION.

APPOINTMENTS BY PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF THE LATE SERGEANT-AT-ARMS, CHARLES S. SALIN.

The PRESIDENT. On behalf of the President Pro Tempore, the Chair announces the appointment of the following persons to attend the funeral of the late Sergeant-at-arms, Charles S. Salin:

Rev. W. W. Hall, Chaplain of the Senate; Nathaniel W. Sweeney, Chief Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms; Elmer E. French, Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms; F. T. Kelly, Postmaster of the Senate; Henry J. Imber, Stenographer to the President Pro Tempore.

PRESENTATION OF TESTIMONIAL TO HONORABLE DAVID J. DAVIS.

Mr. BONBRAKE. Mr. President, I move that the Chair appoint a committee of two to escort the retiring Lieutenant Governor of Pennsylvania, David J. Davis, into the presence of the Senate.

Mr. EARNEST. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair appoints as said committee the Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Davis, and the Senator from Lycoming, Mr. Sones.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I have the honor and pleasure to introduce to you a friend and neighbor, the Honorable Davy J. Davis, who presents himself here this morning.

The PRESIDENT. Lieutenant-Governor Davis, it is with great pleasure I welcome you to the Senate of Pennsylvania, and invite you to your old seat.

Mr. BONBRAKE. Mr. President, there are members of the Senate of Pennsylvania who have known the Honorable David J. Davis longer and better than I; but in the course of two sessions of this body, over which he presided as Lieutenant-Governor with grace and dignity and dispatch, and during which I happened to be a member of the Senate, I have had ample opportunity to observe and to note and to appreciate him for his many good qualities,—for his geniality, his wholesouledness and his companionability. It was not only in this Chamber during the sessions of his Legislative body of Pennsylvania nor was it only by reason of official duty that we came together, but outside of his duty as Lieutenant-Governor and our duties as Senators we had opportunities to know him and to love him for his social qualities, for his fine temperament, for his ideal companionship and his remarkable sense of humor.

As presiding officer of the Senate we love him because of his absolute fairness and justice to all upon all occasions, —fair, honest, impartial.

Mr. President, it must have been one of the proudest moments of his life when he stepped down from that rostrum for the last time as Lieutenant-Governor of Pennsylvania and as the presiding officer of this great law-making body of this Commonwealth,—for he must have known and appreciated that he did so with the best wishes and the goodwill of every member of this Chamber.

And now, Davy Davis, as we have been glad to know you, it gives me great pleasure, in behalf of the Senate of Pennsylvania, to present to you the clock that stands before you as an evidence of our esteem, as a manifestation of our appreciation, and as a token of our goodwill.

Whatever the world may have in store for you, wherever Life's pathway may lead you,—whether it be to the bench of your own county of Lackawanna, to the chief executiveship of this great State of Pennsylvania, to the practice of your profession before the bar of justice or to the beautiful quietude of your own home with the one who has loved you longest and loves you best, may it ever remind you of what we hope have been among the most happy and most pleasant hours of your life.

Keep it—not for its intrinsic value, for that is fleeting, but for that for which it stands: honest effort and public efficiency. Cherish it always, in all the years that are for you to come; and even when the hand of Age has claimed you for her own and turned your still somewhat golden locks to silver, may it ever remind you of these days of color and life and sweetness that you spent with us; and may it ever keep fresh in your memory the associations and the friendships and the attachments that you have made here amid the scenes and the surroundings of the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President and members of the Senate: I cannot be serious if I try, in attempting to speak of Davy J. Davis, because there is no person here today who can look into that smiling physiognomy of his and not realize the fact that he is one of Nature's noblemen, who was placed on God's earth to make it a better place for men and women to live in.

I do not know much about the golden locks of Davy Davis of which my friend has just spoken; in fact, from my point of view at the present time, they are missing. Nevertheless, if in the future years he looks upon that clock in a pensive mood and thinks of that which is past and gone,—do not expect, Davy, to listen just to the ticks of the old clock and hear somebody say that each tick is a heart-throb. Not that. But let your thoughts carry you down Memory's Lane and in that lane see the old friends you have made in the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Members of the Senate, the modesty of that man is beyond your conception. The man that we know was just a smiling friend, a man that was a loyal statesman and soldier. When I spoke to him yesterday and wanted to know just a word or two of what the war record he had taken part in had said, I received no information. But there is no man here that played a greater part in the Twenty-eighth Division than Davy Davis. He was there at the Marne. He was there at Chateau Thierry. He was at every one of the battles. And now, as he is sitting up there gazing down upon us, he is ready to draw the sword again, if necessary, just the same as he was ready to put it back again when we had peace.

Friendship, Davy, is the greatest tie that binds the hearts. Friendship is the most blessed thing that man can have. And when you, as we have spoken of, in later times gaze upon that clock, we do not see you do it in the twilight of age, we see you do it in the golden sunset of your time, with all the ripe memories that you have, and with your friends around you.

I say to you, as Longfellow said in "The Launching of the Ship,"

"Sail on, thou too, O Ship of State;
Sail on, O Union, strong and great."
Humanity, with all her care and troubles
I fear not.

And so I say to you, "Sail on in your union that you have with us, strong and great. Humanity with all its cares and troubles here and now we fear not."

We are with you now, Davy; and we are with you to the end. And we want you to take the clock with a blessing from us.

Mr. BALDWIN. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I am glad to be present and able to enjoy the pleasant exercises. My recollections, for some cause or another, go back to a splendid banquet that we attended a few years ago in Chicago, where, among the prominent speakers, were Vice-President Marshall and the then Governor of Ilinois, Frank O. Lowden. The toastmaster, who was a prominent banker in the City of Chicago, and head of the Chamber of Commerce, introduced Vice-President Marshall; and this toastmaster said to the assembled guests, pointing to the Vice-President as a wonderful example of the successful man, that he should be emulated by men and women as an example for them to follow. The Vice-President, in his reply, said that he hoped there was no mother or father there who would want to wish upon a son or daughter such a position as that of the Vice-Presidency of the United States. He said it was neither a business, a job nor a profession. After his remarks a number of us were visiting the Vice-President, and we said to him that President-elect Harding was going to make of the Vice-Presidency an important position, that the Vice-President was going to sit in at the Cabinet meetings. And in his very humorous, friendly way Vice-President Marshall said, "It can't be did. It can't be did."

Sometimes, my friends, we are liable to think of the position of the Vice-President and that of the Lieutenant-Governor as though those positions were of no importance; but we know, really, that they are offices of the greatest importance and dignity, and that men of the very highest rank in our State and in our nation have sought those positions. It has been my pleasure, as it has been that of many of the other members of this Senate, to know many Lieutenant-Governors of this State; and I should say that perhaps for the reason that the duties of the office are not all serious it may be more attractive and more desirable than it otherwise would be. There is the social side. And of the Lieutenant-Governors that I have known I have never known one that so completely captured the members of this Senate, of the House, and all those with whom he came in contact, as did Lieutenant-Governor Davis. We became attached to him because of his fairness, because of his friendship, because of his cordiality and generosity; and when he retired from the position of Lieutenant-Governor he carried with him the friendship, the esteem and the kindest regard of every member of this Senate.

I think I may say that his motto well could have been,

"There are but a few years of life;
  Shall we waste them in idle strife?
Ah, let no envious taunts be heard;
  Make life's fair pattern of rare design;
And fill up the measure with love's sweet wine,
  But never an angry word.
Strew gladness on the paths of men,—
  You will not pass this way again."

Mr. EARNEST. Behold! I have seen David the son of Davis, a mighty valient man, and a man of war, and prudent in matters, and a comedy person.

And the camp of the Philistines, yea, verily, the Senate of Pennsylvania, being of one mind, as of one body, and having one name, albeit the name of Goliath.

And he (Goliath) had an helmet of brass upon his head and he was armed with a coat of mail; and the weight of the coat was 5000 shekels of brass, and he had greaves of brass upon his legs and a target of brass between his shoulders, and the staff of his spear was a fire with ashes on the end, except in the case of Buckman of Bucks who had a curious contraption holding coals of fire, and which when Buckman of Bucks put to his mouth there came therefrom, as well as from his nose, wreaths of smoke.

And the giant Philistine, Goliath, stood and cried unto any one who might give ear, and said, "Am I not a Philistine and can I not do as I will and when I will and Whomsoever I will? Choose you a man for you and let him come down to me. If he be able to fight with me and to kill me then will we be his servants, but if I prevail against him and kill him then shall ye be our servants and serve us. * * * Give me a man that we may fight first together."

And David, son of David said, "Let no man's heart fail because of him; thy servant will go out and fight with this Philistine. I am unafraid. There came a lion and a bear in 1898 and in 1917, 'and I went out after him and smote him * * and when he arose against me, I caught him by his beard, and smote him and slew him. Thy servant slew both the lion and the bear, and this Philistine shall be as one of them."

And he took his staff in his hand and choose him five smooth stones out of the brook, one the stone of courtesy, another the stone of Blarney, or whatever the Welsh name for that Irish stone may happen to be, a third the stone of patience, a fourth the stone of alertness, and the fifth the stone of justice. And he put these stones which he had even in a scrip, and his sling was in his hand.

And when the Philistine looked about and saw David (son of Davis) he disdained him, for he was but a youth, and ruddy and of a fair countenance, and the Philistine said unto David, "Am I a dog that thou comest to me?" And he said also unto David, "Come to me and I will give thy flesh unto the fowls of the air and to the beasts of the field." And when the Philistine arose and came and drew nigh to him, David (son of Davis) put his hand in his bag and took thence a stone (and always the right one) and slang it and smote the Philistine in his forehead. * * * So David prevailed over the Philistine.

And it came to pass when David was returned from the slaughter of the Philistine that the women came out of all cities singing and dancing, and Samuel, better known as Uncle Sam, took the horn of oil and anointed David in the midst of his brethren. And throughout the length of his years David subdued all his enemies, and after he had reigned four years in the Senate and several scores of years elsewhere, he died full of days, riches and honor. And there was great mourning in the land, for David son of Davis was a valiant man and a just man and beloved by all.

Mr. SALUS. Mr. President and members of the Senate, it appears to me that it is all right to get a clock, even if you are the Lieutenant-Governor, but it also appears to me that this Lieutenant-Governor is paying an awful price for this clock,—after listening here to these various people. One of the Senators used a word here this morning that sounded like flotsam, another said something about physiogomy. I don't know what it means,—it is a big word; but if it means what I think it means, the Lieutenant-Governor and this Senator should go out in the ante-room and argue the matter out. I would be willing to act as referee. And then to listen to that almost-sermon that Senator Earnest just read,—I don't know where he got it. It sounded to me like an awful proposition. If he must stand for all that to get a clock I don't want to be Lieutenant-Governor, nor do I want the clock. However, the clock is here, and someone has to take it away; and if it is going to be unloaded on anybody it may as well be unloaded on a Pennsylvania Welshman. It seems that the Pennsylvania Welshmen have a sort of inherent right on the Governorship of Pennsylvania. We lose one and we get another. And I now, on behalf of American-born Italians, make an application for the next Governorship of Pennsylvania. If we do not get it for them then our people will take it. This thing must be changed. It is not a copyright, and it is not even the inherent right of a Pennsylvania Welshman, who seem to have had a run on it up to this time. But, like all things, it must run out eventually.

Insofar as our former Lieutenant-Governor is concerned, I want to say that I heard somewhere—I do not know just where—that every man is a king by divine right; every man is his own jury, in life, every man is his own judge; and every man is the architect of his own fortune. But that is surrounded by certain conditions, and those conditions are, that this man must be a man; and so long as he is a man a real man, he has a perfect right to dictate the conditions regarding which I spoke.

What consititutes a real man? There are in my mind, I believe, three constituent parts: He must be a lover of his fellowman. He must be a loyal and devoted husband and father. He must be a patriotic citizen. And along those three lines our former Lieutenant-Governor has qualified one hundred per cent. Taking into consideration even the fact, —which he had to outgrow—that he was a Pennsylvania Welshman, he really is a man who loves his fellowmen; and as to his devotion to his home and family, that cannot be questioned. As to his patriotism, his loyalty to his country, that he loves so well, his record speaks for itself

He is a man among men. Here in the confines of this Senate, every man was happy that Davy Davis was his friend; and when he left he took with him, so far as these members are concerned, the fondest recollections, and the happy thought in their minds was that they had the pleasure of being associated with him for four years.

One of the younger Senators has said that there are different sides to the position of Lieutenant-Governor. "There is the social side." said he. "There is the political side." But he forgot the third side,—and the third side is "suicide". I have never heard of a Lieutenant-Governor who left this position and who was ever heard of thereafter. I hope that this tradition will not be followed in this case, and that we will hear of our former Lieutenant-Governor again,—if not in higher places in the Government of Pennsylvania, at least in some outstanding position where he deserves to be, in order that he may take care of the welfare of his fellowman.

And as I look upon that clock I am very sorry that those who bought it did not go down to the Victor Talking Machine Company and procure a radio attachment for it, so that when the hour of nine strikes there would come from this clock a voice—possibly that of Harry Baker—saying, "The hour of nine o'clock having arrived, the Senate will be in order, and will be opened with praper by the Chaplain." And then there would come a prayer from the clock. Would that not be beautiful? And the next morning there would be heard, "The Senator from Philadelphia, Mrs. Vare, moves that the further reading of the Journal of the last session be dispensed with." And so on down the order of business. There would be heard the reports from the various committees, and, on the bills on final passage the clerk would be heard: "Mr. Aron, Mr. Baldwin, Mr. Barr, Mr. Baumer, Mr. Betts, Mr. Bonbrake, Mr. Brown, Mr. Buckman, Mr. Coyne, Mr. Culbertson, Mr. Daix, Mr. Davis, Mr. Derrick, Mr. DeWitt, Mr. Earnest, Mr. Einstein, Mr. Eyre, Mr. Freeman, Mr. Gelder, Mr. Griswold, Mr. Harris, Mr. Heaton, Mr. Homsher, Mr. Huffman, Mr. Joyce, Mr. Krause, Mr. Kunkle, Mr. Kutz, Mr. Lanius, Mr. Leslie, Mr. MacDade, Mr. Mansfield, Mr. McNichol, Mr. Miller, Mr. North, Mr. Norton, Mr. Painter, Mr. Patton, Mr. Phipps, Mr. Qligley, Mr. Salus, Mr. Schantz, Mr. Snyder, Mr. Sones, Mr. Sprowls, Mr. Steele, Mr. Stites, Mrs. Vare, Mr. Weingartner, Mr. Woodward."

It would refresh his memory of the names that he was glad to hear while he was Lieutenant-Governor. And finally he would hear: "The Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, moves that the Senate do now adjourn until tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock."

Would that not be a pleasing combination, if he had that in his home on the cold nights or on the pleasant evenings or any time that he might be sitting at home,—and I hope he is at home often—to have a recurrence of those beautiful occasions in this State Senate? I am sorry that did not happen. However, a mistake has been made; and I hope that when our present Lieutenant-Governor's time expires the great men of our Commonwealth will have invented something similar to the reproducer I suggest, and that we will be able to present him with such a clock. And he, being a Welshman, and Lieutenant-Governor Davis being a Welshman,—and Lieutenant-Governor Davis being the older of the two, I think that they will have a deal and that Lieutenant-Governor Davis will get the new clock,—I am not sure about it, but I think so.

With all due respect to our former Lieutenant-Governor and to the members of this Senate, this to me is a pleasant moment; and I hope the former Lieutenant-Governor will take this clock home—not as a token from us but more in the nature of the members of this Senate asking him to do us the favor of taking this clock to his home in order that at all times he may remember our names, recall our faces and, as the days go by, recall the pleasant days and nights that we have had and the great companionship that we have enjoyed in being one of the men who served under him during the four years that he was Lieutenant-Governor.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair takes great pleasure in introducing former Lieutenant-Governor David J. Davis, of Scranton.

Mr. DAVID J. DAVIS. Lieutenant-Governor, President Pro Tempore, members and citizens employes of the Senate. It is not only a little bit embarrassing but it is unusually difficult to know just what to say, on an occasion of this kind, that would properly express one's appreciation. We all know that every experience in this hurly-burly business of life, in which we are striving for the thing material and for personal gain that after all it is a knowledge of the fact that we have been able to make some friends and to maintain them.

It is all the more impressive when we stop to consider the comparatively short time we have on this earth to mingle with our fellowmen, a fact which I am sure must have impressed you last week at your memorial meeting, when you gathered in this chamber to pay your last tribute of respect to the memory of one-tenth of your entire membership, that had passed away during the previous two years.

This evidence of your esteem, in the little body which I call my home, will always bring to my memory a fine recollection of the four years in which I was permitted to associate and cooperate with you.—far too short years; and yet they will always be the happiest four years I ever experienced.

I wish there were something that I could really say or do that would adequately express the friendship that I feel down deep in my heart must have existed between us. Without any reference to having acted fair, it seems having established a friendship and having it maintained in all the years since we have severed our relationship, to play the game fair and square is the only way, in my opinion, it is to be played.

I shall look upon this clock, in the years I am spared, with all the esteem, with all the pleasure that it is possible for anyone to enjoy; and in return I want to express the hope that you may live and enjoy a long life of health, happiness and prosperity, that you may long continue to serve this grand old Commonwealth of which we are all so proud, and that as a result of your service to this Commonwealth it may still continue to shine as the Keystone Commonwealth of these United States. I thank you.

HOUSE MESSAGES.

NAYS—0.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 543, as follows:

An Act providing for the opening of ballot boxes after general municipal special or primary elections upon petition to the Court of Common Pleas or a judge thereof under certain circumstances and imposing certain duties in connection therewith upon the Court the Prothonotary and the county treasurer

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the Court of Common Pleas or a judge thereof of the county in which any election district precinct or division is located shall open the ballot-box of such election district precinct or division used at any general municipal special or primary election held therein and cause the entire vote thereof to be correctly counted by persons designated by such court or judge if three qualified electors of the precinct or division or if the election district precinct or div- ward of a city or borough containing such election district sion is not contained in a ward three qualified electors of such election district precinct or division or of contiguous or adjacent election district precinct or division shall file as hereinafter provided a petition and affidavit alleging that upon information which they consider reliable they believe that fraud although not manifest on the general return of votes made therefrom was committed in the computation of the votes cast in such election district precinct or division or in the marking of ballots or otherwise in connection with such ballots It shall not be necessary for the petitioners to specify in their petition the particular act of fraud they believe to have been committed nor to offer evidence to substantiate the allegations of their petition

Section 2 Every petition for the opening of a ballot box under the provisions of this act shall be filed in the office of the prothonotary of the proper county accompanied by cash in the amount of fifty dollars ($50.00) or by a bond signed by the petitioners as principals and by a corporate surety to be approved by the Court in the amount of two hundred dollars ($200.00) conditioned upon the payment to the county treasurer of the sum of fifty dollars ($50.00) in the event that upon the opening of the ballot box it shall not appear that fraud or substantial error was committed in the computation of the vote cast on the ballots contained therein or fraud in the marking of the ballots contained therein or otherwise in connection with such ballots

Section 3 If upon opening any ballot box under the provisions of this act it shall appear that fraud or substantial error was committed in the computation of the vote cast on the ballots contained therein or fraud in the marking of the ballots contained therein or otherwise in connection with such ballots it shall be the duty of the court to certify to the prothonotary such fact and thereupon the prothonotary shall if the petitioners shall have deposited with him cash in the amount of fifty dollars ($50.00) return to them the said sum of fifty dollars ($50.00) and if the petitioners shall have filed with the prothonotary a bond in lieu of cash the prothonotary shall forthwith mark said bond "cancelled"

Section 4 If upon opening any ballot box under the provisions of this act it shall not appear that fraud or substantial error was committed in the computation of the vote cast on the ballots contained therein or fraud in the marking of the ballots contained therein or otherwise in connection with such ballots the persons upon whose petition such ballot box shall have been opened shall forfeit to the county the sum of fifty dollars ($50.00) If said petitioners shall have deposited the said sum in cash with the prothonotary at the time of filing their petition the prothonotary shall promptly upon the certification of the court that fraud was not discovered pay said sum deposited with him to the county treasurer and if the petitioners shall have filed with their petition a bond in the sum of two hundred dollars ($200.00) it shall be the duty of the county treasurer forthwith to collect from the surety on said bond the sum of fifty dollars ($50.00) and the cost of suit and for this purpose he is hereby authorized to institute any necessary legal proceedings

Section 5 Ballot boxes may be opened under the provisions of this act at any time within four months after the date of the general municipal special or primary election at which the ballots therein shall have been cast If any ballot box shall have been opened under the provisions of this act before the completion of the computation and canvassing of all of the returns for the county and the court shall discover therein any fraud or substantial error it shall correct compute and certify to the return judges or the return board for the said county the votes of the election district regardless of any fraudulent or erroneous entries made by the election officers thereof and it shall be the duty of the return judges or return board to enter in the returns the figures so certified and to correct accordingly any entries previously made in the papers being prepared by the said return judges or return board No order or decision of said court hereunder shall be deemed a final adjudication regarding the results of any election or primary so as to preclude any contest thereof and no such order or decision shall affect the official return of said election direct unless the ballot boxes shall have been opened before the completion of the computation and canvassing of all of the returns for the county as herein provided or unless a contest shall have been instituted in the manner now or hereafter provided by law

Section 6 If upon the opening of any ballot box under the provisions of this act it shall be found that fraud was committed in the computation of the votes cast on the ballots contained therein or in the marking of the ballots contained therein or otherwise in connection with such ballots the court shall make such order as shall be appropriate to enable the ballot box and the contents thereof to be available as evidence in any prosecution which may be begun against any person or persons alleged to be guilty of such act of fraud

Section 7 All acts or parts of acts in conflict or inconsistent with this act or any part thereof are hereby repealed so far as they are inconsistent herewith

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 650.

Mr. BOYD. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. BOYD. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

Mr. NORTH. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. NORTH. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Boyd.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Boyd, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BOYD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would like to know what the purpose is in moving to reconsider?

Mr. BOYD. Mr. President, I wish to offer amendments.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Boyd, what the amendments consist of.

Mr. BOYD. Mr. President, the amendment includes our Assistant District Attorneys in proportion to the population. They were not considered in this bill and they are simply put in in the same proportion as others.

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, it does not destroy the intent of the bill?

Mr. BOYD. Mr. President, it does not.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

In was agreed to,

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BOYD. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend section 1, page 2, lines 24 to 29, by striking out all of said lines from and including the word "but" in line 24, to and including the word "more" in line 29.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

The PRESIDENT. Senate Bill No. 823, (House Bill No. 197), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section four hundred and twenty-one of the act approved the fourteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 840) entitled "An act concerning townships and revising amending and consolidating the law relating thereto" as amended by defining and limiting road taxes is not up from the printer and will go over in its order.

BILLS ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 890, (House Bill No. 1254), as follows:

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and five) entitled "An act enlarging the powers of mutual savings fund or building and loan associations authorizing them to accumulate a reserve fund to pay contingent losses and validating such funds heretofore accumulated to permit members to secure the repayment of one-half of their loans by a straight bond and mortgage for a fixed term and authorizing said associations to so secure loans authorizing said association to make loans in certain cases upon a stipulated premium and further authorizing them to loan money to other like associations under certain conditions and repealing all laws inconsistent with this act" permitting building and loan associations to have contingent funds not in excess of fifteen per centum of their assets

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act approved the fourteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws two hundred and five) entitled "An act enlarging the powers of mutual savings fund or building and loan associations authorizing them to acumulate a reserve fund to pay contingent losses and validating such funds heretofore accumulated to permit members to secure the repaying of one-half of their loans by a straight bond and mortgage for a fixed term and authorizing said associations to so secure loans authorizing said associations to make loans in certain cases upon a stipulated premium and further authorizing them to loan money to other like associations under certain conditions and repealing all laws inconsistent with this act" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall be lawful for any mutual savings fund or building and loan association now incorporated or hereafter to be incorporated

(a) To set aside from the net profits a sum not to exceed fifteen per centum thereof each year as a reserve fund for the payment of contingent losses until the total amount of such fund so set aside shall equal fifteen per centum of the assets of such association Provided That no association shall reduce the dividend or interest payable on voluntary withdrawal as fixed by the board of directors or its by-laws for that purpose and all such funds heretofore accumulated by any such association from its profits not in excess of fifteen per centum of the assets are hereby confirmed and made valid Provided however That if at any time the assets of the association shall become reduced in amount and the contingent fund should thereby exceed[fifteen] per centum of the remaining assets of the association then at the next dividend period the amount in excess of fifteen per centum in said contingent fund shall be transferred to the general profit account of such association

(b) To permit members when loans are granted to secure the repayment thereof if so desired by giving to the association a straight bond and mortgage on real estate for a fixed period for an amount not to exceed one-half of the loan and upon such other terms and conditions as may be agreed upon and for the remainder of the loan which shall be on shares of the association and installment bond and mortgage on real estate in form as now provided by law Provided That it shall not be lawful to collect premiums or fines on such straight bond and mortgage

(c) To provide in its by-laws that the loans shall be made first to the members of the association or to persons intending to become members of the association or to persons intending to become members if the loan be secured who shall bid the highest premiums for the preference or priority in procuring loans and it shall be competent and lawful for the borrower from such association to agree in writing upon a given rate of premiums not to exceed two per centum per annum upon the amount of the loan in addition to the interest to be paid upon such loan without bidding for preference or priority And no premium contracted for under this section with or without bidding shall be deemed usurious although in excess of the legal rate of interest

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

BILL OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. EARNEST. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 511, (House Bill No. 608), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to repeal an act approved the seventh day of May one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five (P. L. 16) entitled "An act to further regulate the admission of attorneys and counsellors at law to practice in the several courts of this Commonwealth" go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate bill No. 544, as follows:

An Act to amend section twenty-six and section thirty as amended of the act approved the tenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and nineteen) entitled "An act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections" by specifying the circumstances and conditions under which voters may have assistance in marking their ballots at general municipal special and primary elections prescribing certain duties to be performed by the Secretary of the Commonwealth and election officers providing penalties and repealing inconsistent legislation

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section twenty-six of the act approved the tenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (Pamphlet Laws four hundred and nineteen) entitled "An act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 26 No voter shall be permitted to receive any assistance in marking his ballot at any general municipal special or primary election unless he shall first state distinctly and audibly under oath or affirmation which shall be administered to him by the judge of election that he cannot read the names on the ballot or that by reason of physical disability he is unable to see or mark the ballot or to enter the voting compartment without assistance The voter shall state the specific physical disability which requires him to receive assistance Thereupon the voter shall be permitted by the judge of election to select a qualified voter of the election district to aid him in the preparation of his ballot such preparation being made in the voting compartment and the judge of election shall forthwith enter in writing in the Record of Assisted Voters herein provided (1) the voter's name (2) the fact that the voter cannot read the names on the ballot if that be the reason for requiring assistance and otherwise the specific disability which requires him to receive assistance and (3) the name of the person furnishing the assistance The Record of Assisted Voters shall be returned by the judge of election to the prothonotary in the case of a general municipal or special election and to the county commissioners in the case of a primary election with the tally sheet triplicate return list of voters and oaths of election officers The prothonotary or county commissioners as the case may be shall file such Record of Assisted Voters in their respective offices and shall permit the same to be examined only upon the written order of a Judge of the Court of Common Pleas permitting a named person or persons to make such examination thereof Provided however that such Record shall be subject to subpoena to the same extent to which other election records may be subpoenaed

It shall be the duty of the county commissioners of each county to furnish to the election officers in each election district contained therein with the other election supplies a book to be entitled Record of Assisted Voters the form of which shall be prescribed by the Secretary of the Commonwealth which shall be ruled with vertical columns and transverse lines with appropriate column headings on each page and which shall provide suitable and sufficient accommodation for the entries required hereby

Section 2 That section thirty of said act which was amended by the act approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and three (Pamphlet Laws thirty-eight) entitled "An act to further amend the ninth and fourteenth sections of this act entitled 'An act regulating the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections' approved the tenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three as amended by an act approved the ninth day of July one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven also to amend the twenty-second twenty-seventh twenty-eighth and thirtieth sections of said act to regulate the nomination and election of public officers requiring certain expenses incident thereto to be paid by the several counties and punishing certain offenses in regard to such elections approved the tenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three by repealing the limit of the number of times the names of candidates shall appear on the official ballots by specifying the form contents and manner of printing and counting of official ballots and of making return of all votes and of announcing the total vote by directing the manner in which voters may designate their choice of candidates and their votes upon Constitutional amendments or other questions submitted for their votes by prescribing the duties of voters election officers police officers constables deputy constables and helpers and prescribing forms of punishment for violations thereof“ is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 30 Any voter at a general municipal special or primary election who shall allow his ballot to be seen by any person with the apparent intention of letting it be known how he is about to vote or shall cast or attempt to cast any other than the official ballot which has been given him by the proper election officer or who without having made the statement required by section twenty-six of this act shall permit another to accompany him into the voting compartment or to mark his ballot for him or who shall mark his ballot while another is unlawfully present in the voting compartment with him or who shall state falsely that he cannot read the names on the ballot or that by reason of physical disability he cannot see or mark the ballot or enter the voting compartment without assistance or who shall state as his reason for requiring assistance a disability from which he does not suffer or who shall go into the voting compartment with another while voting or be present therein while another is voting or mark the ballot of another except in strict accordance with the provisions of this act or shall wilfully violate any other provision of this act or any person who shall interfere with any voter when inside said enclosed space or when marking his ballot or who shall endeavor to induce any voter before depositing his ballot to show how he marks or has marked his ballot or any helper who shall attempt to influence the vote of the voter whom he is assisting or who shall mark a ballot in any other way than that requested by the voter whom he is assisting or who shall disclose to anyone the contents of any ballot which has been marked with his help except when required so to do in any legal proceedings shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars or to undergo an imprisonment for not more than one year or both at the discretion of the court

Any election officer who shall permit a voter to be accompanied by another into the voting compartment when he has not made under oath or affirmation the statement required by section twenty-six of this act or when he knows that the statement which the voter has made is false or who shall permit any person to accompany a voter into the voting compartment except as provided by this act shall for each such violation be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to undergo imprisonment for not less than one month nor more than one year and in addition thereto at the discretion of the court to pay a fine which shall not exceed one thousand dollars

Any judge of election who shall fail to record as required by section twenty-six of this act the name of each voter who receives assistance or who is accompanied by another into the voting compartment or shall insert in the Record of Assisted Voters the name of any voter who does not receive assistance or is not accompanied by another into the voting compartment or shall fail to record the reason stated by any assisted voter for requiring assistance or shall record in respect of any assisted voter a reason other than that stated by the voter or shall fail to record the name of each person rendering assistance to a voter as prescribed by this act or shall knowingly record as the name of such helper a name which is not the name of such helper or shall fail or neglect to return the Record of Assisted Voters to the prothonotary or the county commissioners as required by this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be sentenced to undergo imprisonment for not less than two months nor more than two years and in addition thereto at the discretion of the court to pay a fine which shall not exceed one thousand dollars

Section 3 It is the intention of the General Assembly that if this act cannot take effect in its entirety because of the judgment of any court of competent jurisdiction holding unconstitutional any part or parts thereof the remaining provisions of this act shall be given full force and effect as completely as if the part or parts held unconstitutional had not been included herein

Section 4 So much of section eleven of the act approved the twelfth day of July one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and nineteen) as may be in conflict or inconsistent with the provisions of this act is hereby repealed

All other acts and parts of acts in conflict or inconsistent with this act or any part hereof are hereby repealed so far as they are inconsistent herewith

4½ To the widow or widower if there be three or more children sixty-five per centum of wages but not in excess of fifteen dollars per week

5 If there be neither widow or widower nor children entitled to compensation then to the father or mother if dependent to any extent upon the employe at the time of the accident twenty-five per centum of wages but not in excess of five dollars per week Provided however That in the case of a minor child who has been contributing to his parents the dependency of said parents shall be presumed and provided further That if the father or mother was totally dependent upon the deceased employe at the time of the accident the compensation payable to such father or mother shall be forty-five per centum of wages but not in excess of ten dollars per week

6 If there be neither widow or widower children nor dependent parent entitled to compensation then to the brothers and sisters if actually dependent to any extent upon the decedent for support at the time of his death fifteen per centum of wages for one brother or sister and five per centum additional for each additional brother or sister with a maximum of twenty-five per centum such compensation to be paid to their guardian

7 Whether or not there be dependents as aforesaid the reasonable expense of burial not exceeding one hundred and fifty dollars which shall be paid by the employer or insurer directly to the undertaker (without deduction of any amounts theretofore paid for compensation or for medical expenses)

Compensation shall be payable under this section to or on account of any child brother or sister only if and while such child brother and sister is under the age of sixteen No compensation shall be payable under this section to a widow unless she was living with her deceased husband at the time of his death or was then actually dependent upon him for support No compensation shall be payable under this section to a widower unless he be incapable of self-support at the time of his wife's death and be at such time dependent upon her for support The terms "child" and "children" shall include stepchildren and adopted children and children to whom he stood in loco parentis if members of decedent's household at the time of his death and shall include posthumous children Should any dependent of a deceased employe die or remarry or should the widower become capable of self-support the right of such dependent or widower to compensation under this section shall cease Provided however That upon the remarriage of any widow other than a non-resident alien widow the employer shall pay to such widow the then value of the compensation payable to her during one-third of the period during which compensation then remains payable but not exceeding one hundred weeks calculated in accordance with the provisions of section three hundred and sixteen of this article If the compensation payable under this section to any person shall for any cause cease the compensation to the remaining persons entitled thereunder shall thereafter be the same as would have been payable to them had they been the only persons entitled to compensation at the time of the death of the deceased

The wages upon which death compensation shall be based shall not in any case be taken to exceed twenty-four dollars per week nor be less than twelve dollars per week

This compensation shall be paid during three hundred weeks and in the case of children entitled to compensation under this section the compensation of each child shall continue after said period of three hundred weeks until such child reaches the age of sixteen at the rate of seventeen and one-half per centum of wages but not in excess of three dollars and seventy-five cents per week if there be one child twenty-seven and one-half per centum of wages but not in excess of six dollars and twenty-five cents per week if there be two children thirty-eight and one-half per centum of wages but not in excess of eight dollars and seventy-five cents per week if there be three children fifty per centum of wages but not in excess of eleven dollars and twenty-five cents per week if there be four children fifty-five per centum of wages but not in excess of twelve dollars and fifty cents per week if there be five children sixty per centum of wages but not in excess of thirteen dollars and seventy-five cents per week if there be six children or more The board may if the best interest of a child or children shall so require at any time order and direct the compensation payable to a child or children or to a widow or widower on account of any child or children to be paid to the guardian of such child or children or if there be no guardian to such other person as the board as hereinafter provided may direct If there be no guardian or committee of any minor dependent or insane employe or dependent on whose account compensation is payable the amount payable on account of such minor dependent or insane employe or dependent may be paid to any surviving parent or to such other person as the board may order and direct and the board may require any person other than a guardian or committee to whom it has directed compensation for a minor dependent or insane employe or dependent to be paid to render as and when it shall so order accounts of the receipts and disbursements of such person and to file with it a satisfactory bond in a sum sufficient to secure the proper application of the moneys received by such person

Section 3 That section three hundred and eleven of said act be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 311 Unless the employer shall have actual knowledge of the occurrence of the injury or unless the employe or some one in his behalf or some of the dependents or some one in their behalf shall give notice thereof to the employer within fourteen days after the accident no compensation shall be due until such notice be given or knowledge obtained but if the employe or other beneficiary shall show that his delay in giving notice was due to his mistake or ignorance of fact or of law or to his physical or mental inability or to fraud misrepresentation or deceit or to any other reasonable cause or excuse then compensation shall be allowed unless the employer shall show that he did not know and by reasonable diligence could not have learned of the accident and that he was prejudiced by the delay in which case he shall be relieved to the extent of such prejudice and unless such knowledge be obtained or notice given within ninety days after the occurrence of the injury no compensation shall be allowed

Section 4 That section three hundred and seventeen of said act be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 317 At any time after the approval of an agreement or after the entry of the award a sum equal to all future installments of compensation may (where death or the nature of the injury renders the amount of future payments certain) with the approval of the board be paid by the employer to any savings bank trust company or life insurance company in good standing and authorized to do business in this State and such sum together with all interest thereon shall thereafter be held in trust for the employe or the dependents of the employe who shall have no further recourse against the employer The payment of such sum by the employer evidenced by the receipt of the trustee noted upon the prothonotary's docket shall operate as a satisfaction of said award as to the employer Payments from said fund shall be made by the trustee in the same amounts and at the same periods as are herein required of the employer until said fund and interest shall be exhausted In the appointment of the trustee preference shall be given in the discretion of the board to the choice of the employe or the dependents of the deceased employe should however there remain any unexpended balance of any fund after the payment of all sums due under this act such balance shall be repaid to the employer who made the original payment or to his legal representatives

Section 5 That section four hundred and ten of said act as amended by the said act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and forty-two) be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 410 If after any accident the employer and the employe or his dependent concerned in any accident shall fail to agree upon the facts thereof and the compensation due under this act the employe or his dependents may present a claim for compensation to the board

Whenever any claim for compensation is presented to the board other than claims of non-resident alien dependents and is finally adjudicated in favor of the claimant the amounts of compensation actually due at the time the first payment is made after such adjudication shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum and such interest shall be payable to the same persons as the compensation is payable

In case any claimant shall die before the final adjudication of his claim the amount of compensation due such claimant to the date of death shall be paid to the dependents entitled to compensation or if there be no dependents then to the estate of the decedent

Section 6 That section four hundred and thirteen of said act as amended by the act approved the twenty-sixth day of June one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and forty-two) be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Ordered, That the clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 892, (House Bill No. 1280). entitled:

An Act to authorize the incoming sheriff in any county to complete the official acts of his predecessor

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, the title of this bill seems to be very indefinite and it reads, "An Act to authorize the incoming sheriff in any county to complete the official acts of his predecessor. Will some one please explain.

Mr. LESLIE. Mr. President, I think that the title, in so far as I know, means actually what it says. There have been counties where the incoming sheriff has neglected and delayed and refused to complete his official acts. This is the import of this act.

And the question, recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

RECONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL No. 657.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which Senate Bill No. 657, entitled:

An Act to amend section three hundred and two and section twelve hundred and one as amended of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (P. L. 359) entitled "An act concerning game and other wild birds and wild animals and amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" increasing the resident hunters' license fee and restricting the use of moneys derived from such increase was defeated.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I voted "no."

Mrs. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mrs. VARE. Mr. President, I voted "no."

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DAVIS. Mr. President, this is the bill that increases the hunters' license, the same bill that was defeated. The Senator from Philadelphia has had a change of heart and I hope that the Senate will take the same action this morning at it did last night and defeat the bill.

REPORT OF DELEGATES TO FIFTH ANNUAL MEETING OF THE AMERICAN LEGISLATORS' ASSOCIATION.

Mr. WOODWARD presented Report of the delegates to Fifth Annual Meeting of the American Legislators' Association which was read as follows:

The first annual meeting of The American Legislators' Association was called to order in Denver, (Colorado Senate Chamber) at ten A. M., July 19, 1926, with Henry W. Toll, State Senator of Colorado in the Chair.

Nine states were represented. The Pennsylvania General Assembly was represented by Messrs. Edmonds, MacDade, Schantz, and Woodward. After an address of welcome from Judge Charles C. Butler, Senator Toll outlined the purpose of the Association and read the proposed Constitution and By-laws.

After recess, John H. Voorhees, Esq., of South Dakota, representing the Commission on Uniform Laws, explained the proposed uniform law on "Extradition of Persons Charged with Crime." After discussion, Mr. F. S. Edmonds, of Pennsylvania, spoke upon "Inheritance Taxation." Senator Toll spoke upon our friendly relations with The National Conference of the Commission on Uniform Laws, also with The American Bar Association, both recently in session in Denver. An appropriate resolution was adopted.

At 7 P. M., Senator Toll was host to the delegates and their wives at dinner at the Cactus Club. After a picturesque dinner, there was a long and detailed discussion of the Constitution and By-laws. Several important changes were suggested and approved.

Tuesday July 20.

Chairman Toll greeted representatives who had not been present at the session of the first day.

Mr. Voorhees explained the draft of an uniform Motor Vehicle Act.

Senators Woodward and Schantz offered a resolution which was adopted that Senator Toll as head of The American Legislators' Association should attend the meeting of the Governors, to be held in Cheyenne, Wyoming, the following week, and to acquaint the governors of the formation of the Association.

After recess, the Nominating Committee reported as follows:

President,	Henry W. Toll
Vice President,	George Woodward
2nd Vice President	Alfred L. Thwing
Auditor	Reece A. Candal

The ticket was elected and the meeting adjourned.

Respectfully submitted to the PENNSYLVANIA GENERAL ASSEMBLY by

MacDade, Schantz, Woodward.

March 29, 1927.

The PRESIDENT. The report of the Committee will be printed as part of today's proceedings.

RESOLUTION.

RELATIVE TO COMMITTEE ROOMS.

Mr. TURNER offered the following resolution whih was twice read and laid over under the rules:

In the House of Representatives, March 29, 1927.

Whereas, The members of the Committee of the Senate and House of Representatives have been greatly handicapped during the present session for want of sufficient office space and other conveniences and facilities necessary for the prompt dispatch of public business, and

Whereas, A study of other customs and practices now in vogue in the conduct of the Legislature might suggest changes which would further speed the work of the members, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the President pro tempore of the Senate shall appoint two Senators and the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall appoint three members of the House, which Senators and members of the House shall constitute a joint legislative committee whose duty it shall be to confer with the Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings with the view of securing for the Legislature for the session of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine sufficient and adequate rooms for the meetings of its committees, for the use of the House stenographers, and with the further view of securing additional telephone service and such other conveniences and facilities as may be deemed necessary by the committee for the prompt dispatch of public business, and be it further

Resolved, That the said committee shall make a study of the practice and procedure now in vogue in the Senate and House of Representatives as to the method of printing Histories, and such other matters as to them may seem to be in need of change and revision in order to assist Members in the work of the session, and be it further

Resolved, That the committee shall make a report to the Legislature of one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine with the recommendations which it has laid before the said Board of Commissioners of Public Grounds and Buildings, and with such other recommendations as they may have to suggest, in accordance with the intent of this resolution.

SENATE MESSAGE.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative and the amendments were concurred in.

Ordered, that the Clerk inform the Senate accordingly.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. BAILY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. BAILY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. We have with us this afternoon under the leadership of Mr. Frank Orth, the Boys High School Band of Coatesville, Chester County. We ask that you give them the floor for one half hour beginning at 3:00 o'clock. We ask that personal favor in order that they may be able to play for you. This is not entirely a matter of entertainment, but we wish to show to you what can be done with youth and a boy's band in a small town or city of 15,000 population. The Department of Education at Harrisburg is co-operating with us in this movement, and at considerable expense to the schools and to certain individuals, we are bringing this band here in order that you may see what can be done. The Speaker has very kindly and graciously offered to do this if you will concur, and I move that the use of the Hall of the House be granted for this purpose.

Mr. GYGER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS RECALLED FROM THE GOVERNOR ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 268, as follows:

An Act validating certain proceedings and elections of counties cities boroughs townships school districts and other incorporated districts or municipalities had and held for the purpose of increasing the indebtedness of such municipalities or the refunding of the existing indebtedness to provide for the redemption of same and validating bonds issued or authorized to be issued in pursuance to such proceedings and elections

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 833, as follows:

An Act relating to streets lanes or alleys that were originally laid out on plans of lots and which have been vacated as public highways in whole or in part and thereafter closed as private ways and limiting the time within which actions may be brought

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That where any street lane or alley laid out by any person or persons in any village or town plot or in any plans of lots on lands owned or controlled by such person or persons shall have been accepted as or in any manner become a public highway and the said street lane or alley or any part thereof has been or shall hereafter be duly and lawfully vacated as a public highway and has been or shall hereafter be actually closed upon the ground any action at law or equity by any person to enforce any right in said street lane or alley so vacated or easement in the ground embraced within the boundaries of the same by reason of ownership of or interest in any lot or lots in said plan not abutting on the vacated portion of the said street lane or alley shall be brought within one year after the vacation of said street lane or alley as a public highway and the closing of the same upon the ground and not thereafter Provided That any person who would be sooner barred by this act shall not be thereby barred for six months from the approval thereof

Section 2 From and after the expiration of a period of one year after the actual closing upon the ground of a street lane or alley or part thereof vacated as mentioned in the preceding section without the bringing of any such action as in said act mentioned the designation of said street lane or alley or part thereof upon said plan shall have no force or effect and all easements in the ground covered by said street lane or alley or part thereof of every nature and kind whatsoever and either public or private as far as the same shall have been vacated and closed as aforesaid shall cease and determine except as to such lot or lots which do actually abut upon the vacated and closed portion thereof

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

SENATE MESSAGE.

RESOLUTION CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives.

Resolved (if the Senate concur) that House Bill No. 995, entitled:

An Act relating to aeronautics establishing the Pennsylvania Aeronautics Commission in the Department of Internal Affairs defining its powers and duties regulating the licensing of aircraft and airmen and the establishment of airports and landing fields and providing penalties

be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 319, as follows:

An Act to create a municipal tax board in boroughs and school districts coextensive therewith in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with power to appoint an assessor and to fix the assessed valuation of taxable property therein for the purpose of taxation in boroughs and school districts and for increasing the indebtedness of the same to prepare tax duplicates and for payment of expenses incident to the duties of such tax board

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That a municipal tax board is hereby created in every borough and school district coextensive therewith to consist of the burgess president of town council and president of the board of school directors

[Section 2 Every municipal tax board shall meet in joint session on the first Tuesday in June in every year in the council chamber of the borough and organize by electing a president vice president and secretary Such officers shall be members of the municipal tax board]

Section 2 Every municipal tax board shall meet on the first Monday in February every second year and appoint one person as assessor of all taxable property in the borough such person shall have resided in the borough at least five years prior to his appointment he shall be a qualified elector and own real estate in the borough of the assessed value of at least one thousand dollars he shall serve for the term of two years from the first Monday in February after his appointment and may be removed at any time by a majority vote of the municipal tax board

[Section 3 The municipal tax board at its meeting on the first Tuesday in June in each year shall fix the assessed valuation of all taxable property in the borough and school district at a fair market value which shall be the highest price for which such property would sell at public or private sale]

Section 3 The assessor shall before entering upon the duties of his office take and subscribe the oath prescribed for municipal officers and file the same with the borough secretary

The assessor shall make a full just equal and impartial assessment of all property real personal and mixed and all property shall be assessed at a fair market value such as it would sell for at an open bona fide sale All professions and occupations shall be assessed at such rates as the municipal tax board may fix

The assessor shall make a return to the municipal tax board within such time as it may fix and he shall return a complete list of property subject or exempt to taxation he shall return a complete list of all male and female inhabitants over twenty-one years of age

The assessment hereunder for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven shall be made within three months after the enactment hereof the municipal tax board shall appoint an assessor within thirty days after the enactment hereof for the year one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven

The assessor shall be paid such compensation as the municipal tax board may fix and such compensation shall be paid in equal portions out of the school treasury and the borough treasury upon orders drawn upon each respectively and signed by the officers of the tax board

Section 4 The total amount of such assessment as finally fixed by the municipal tax board shall constitute the assessed valuation of taxable property in the borough and school district coextensive therewith upon which the town council and board of school directors shall fix and levy the taxes for the borough and school district for the ensuing year

Section 5 The total amount of such assessment shall constitute the assessed value of taxable property in the borough and school district coextensive therewith for the purpose of increasing the indebtedness of the borough and school district coextensive therewith as provided by law

Section 6 The municipal tax board shall on or before the first Tuesday in September each year file in the office of the clerk of the courts of quarter sessions of the proper county a certificate showing the amount of the assessed valuation of all taxable property in the borough and school district coextensive therewith and the rates of taxes levied for the ensuing year such certificate shall be signed by the officers of the municipal tax board and have attached thereto the seal of the borough and the school district with an affidavit by the secretary as to the truth of such certificate

Section 7 No other assessment of taxable property for any borough or school district coextensive therewith shall be used as the basis of taxation in any borough or school district coextensive therewith nor shall any other assessment be used as the basis for the increase of indebtedness in any borough or school district coextensive therewith

Section 8 The assessed valuation as fixed by the municipal tax board shall not be used as the basis for levying any other tax than such as is to be paid into the treasury of the borough or of the school district coextensive therewith

Section 9 The municipal tax board shall within thirty days after the third Tuesday in June each year mail to every taxable in the borough and school district coextensive therewith a statement showing the assessed valuation of the taxable property in the name of such taxable in the borough and school district and thereby notify such taxable that the municipal tax board would sit at a place fixed by it to correct errors in such assessment

Section 10 The municipal tax board shall not change the assessed valuation of any taxable property excepting upon an affidavit in writing of the taxable setting forth the sum for which such taxable property would be sold and such sum shall be the valuation for the ensuing year if the said board believe that such sum is a fair market value for such property and that it would sell for that price at public or private sale If such affidavit contains false allegations the affiant shall be liable to the charge of perjury as in other cases

Section 11 The municipal tax board shall prepare or have prepared under its direction a tax duplicate for the borough and for the school district and place such duplicates in the hands of the proper tax collector on or before the first Tuesday in September each year with a warrant signed by the officers of the tax board for the collection of the taxes charged in such duplicates as provided by law

Section 12 The members of the municipal tax board shall be paid the sum of five dollars for each day spent in fixing the assessments and correcting errors therein which sum and such other expenses as the tax board may be obliged to incur for service stationery books duplicates and supplies shall be paid in equal portions out of the treasury of the borough and of the school district on warrants drawn by said board and signed by the officers thereof

Section 13 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed so far as they pertain to assessments and taxes in boroughs and school districts coextensive therewith

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TALBOT. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Schuylkill, Mr. Scott, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker, I will.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, will proceed.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the sponsor of this bill to explain to the members of the House the purpose of this bill.

Mr. SCOTT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill, as I understand it, gives to boroughs the same privilege that Third Class Cities now enjoy, the privilege of having a separate board to make their borough assessment, and I have introduced this bill at the request of certain boroughs in the coal region who are handicapped because of low assessments and who cannot take care of their schools under their assessments.

Mr. TURNER. The gentleman has stated that this bill is to take care of certain conditions in the coal mining region. If we will read this bill we will see that a municipal tax board is established in the boroughs of this Commonwealth taking away from the people their right to elect their assessors and putting it into the hands of this particular board. We have discussed throughout this entire session the question of home rule, and, if we vote aye on this bill we are taking away from the people their right to elect their own representatives. In other words, if the school directors or the borough councilmen, elected by the people, are qualified to rule the affairs of the school board and of the borough then why are not the people just as able to elect their assessor. I hope you will vote this bill down.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just have a few words to give you as I see this bill. As I understand from the sponsor of this bill it is an independent board of assesors, independent of the locally elected assessors of the borough and he says it is just the same as we have in third class cities to-day. If it is I don't think any borough in this Commonwealth wants it. I will tell you what they do in third class cities. They assess one assessment for county purposes, which is very low, and then they assess another assessment for city purposes, which is some times twice as great as the other. The Act of Assembly provides, and if they follow the Act of Assembly, they will put the real value on each property, and that is what each assessor swears he does, and therefore, this is only a proposition to provide another assessor. I don't think it is the proper thing. It takes out of the hands of the people the right to elect their assessors and puts it into the hands of the school directors and councilmen. Someone in sponsoring the bill the other day said "Don't you think the school board is better able to appoint assessors than the people are to elect them?" My answer to that is that if they are good enough to elect a good school board they are good enough to elect good assessors and that is the only answer there is to it.

Mr. HAGMAIER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. This bill was turned down by the State Association of Boroughs at their meeting here in January. It is a poor bill for boroughs and I hope you will vote against it.

Shall the bill pass finally?

RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 673 FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. HAAS, offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and adopted:

> In the House of Representatives, March 29, 1927.
> Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 673, Printer's No. 104, File Folio 651, entitled "An act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three, (Pamphlet Laws, fifteen), entitled 'An act relative to the eligibility of candidates for the office of district attorney,'" be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

RESOLUTION RECALLING HOUSE BILL No. 209 FROM THE GOVERNOR.

Mr. CHESTER A. RHODES, offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

> Resolved, (if the Senate concurs), That House Bill No. 209, Printer's No. 18, File Folio 65, entitled "An act to amend subdivision three of section three of an act approved the twenty-ninth day of April, one thousand eight hundred and seventy-four, (Pamphlet Laws, seventy-three), entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations,' by regulating the weekly advertisements for corporate charters," be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, that the clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

BILL ON THIRD READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

The SPEAKER. The hour of twelve o'clock having arrived we will take up the Special Order of business fixed for this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1220, entitled:

> An Act to prevent the trial in any Court of the Commonwealth of any person for any offence against the laws of the Commonwealth who has previously been placed in jeopardy for the same offence against the laws of the United States

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Haas, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HAAS. Mr. Speaker, I shall be delighted.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Will the sponsor of the bill explain the purposes and provisions of the act?

Mr. HAAS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the purpose of the act is to provide that a man shall not be tried twice for the same offense. The Supreme Court of this State has held in the violation of the liquor laws, and would hold in the violation of the narcotic laws or any law wherein the State and Federal Government under the same type of law, that if a man has been tried in the Federal Courts he can still be tried in the State court because he violates two different acts. Personally I believe, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, that when the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of Pennsylvania says that a man shall not twice be placed in jeopardy for the same offense that he should only be tried once and this bill so provides. If a man is now indicted, tried, convicted or acquitted in the Federal courts they turn around and use the same witnesses and the same evidence in the State courts and try to convict him again. In my opinion that is a violation of the Constitution of the United States.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Then do I understand that if a defendant has been tried in the Federal courts that under the provisions of this law he could not thereafter be tried in the State court, but that he could be tried in the State court and afterward be tried for the same offense in the Federal Courts.

Mr. HAAS. Yes; we cannot legislate for the Federal Government.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. How then would the defendant be benefited by this act?

Mr. HAAS. We are doing all we can as far as we can go in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to safeguard the rights of our citizens.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. You say that a trial in these cases is a violation of the Federal Constitution?

Mr. HAAS. I said in my opinion it was.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. That, however, is not the opinion of the Supreme court of the United States?

Mr. HAAS. No. We don't always agree with the Supreme Court.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. You say this would affect the liquor laws and the narcotic laws; what other laws would it affect?

Mr. HAAS. It would affect any laws, Mr. Goodnough, that are concurrent, that is laws that the State and Federal Governments both have that are of the same kind.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Would it affect counterfeiting?

Mr. HAAS. I am not familiar as to whether or not these laws are similar.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. How about sedition or treason?

Mr. HAAS. I imagine it would on treason, yes.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Do you admit that this is the giving up on the part of Pennsylvania, under certain conditions, of the right to enforce its own laws?

Mr. HAAS. No, I do not. I think, Mr. Goodnough, that it is merely tearing out what the fathers of the Constitution of the United States and of the state of Pennsylvania wanted to carry into effect.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. But under the provisions of this bill an offense against the laws of Pennsylvania could not be tried in the courts of that State provided they had previously been tried in the United States Courts?

Mr. HAAS. No, certainly not.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Then it is a giving up of the right to enforce its laws on the part of Pennsylvania?

Mr. HAAS. You may so construe it.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House.

The proposed act provides that no person who has previously been tried and convicted or tried and acquited in any Federal Court shall thereafter be required to stand trial in any State Court for the same cause of action.

At the present time, when any act is denounced as a crime by both Federal and State Sovereignities, the accused may be tried and punished in either or both the Federal and State Courts. The United States Supreme Court having ruled that this is not an infraction of the constitutional rule against double jeopardy. U. S. v. Lanza 260 U. S. 377. Crimes affected by the act are offenses against the Narcotic Act and Prohibition Laws, counterfeiting, sedition and treason.

I am of opinion that this is bad legislation and ought not to be passed for the reason that it attempts to take away from Pennsylvania, the right, under certain circumstances to enforce its own laws, which is a right originally belonging to the states and preserved to them under the tenth amendment to the Constitution of the United States. This right has been jealously guarded by all the states through all the history of the government. It is bad legislation for the reason that it will increase the burden upon the State Courts, since prosecuting attorneys will naturally try their cases in the State Courts first, if this bill becomes a law, because after trial in a State Court, for the crimes mentioned, the defendant could also be tried in a Federal Court. The act will benefit no one and will interfere with the orderly and proper administration of justice.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, This is a bill that is very fair in every detail. It is a bill let me say that is correctly drawn. It is a bill to meet a terrible situation. The argument of my friend from Cameron, Mr. Goodnough, is absolutely unsound. Pennsylvania is not under this bill, deprived of enforcing her laws. The United States Government under this bill, is not deprived from enforcing its laws. This bill before us says that if a man is arrested and taken before a Federal Commissioner and indicted for an offense and is tried in a Federal Court and is found guilty and sentenced, say to a year, that then the District Attorney of Pennsylvania, of some county, indicts him and tries him, that his lawyer can stand up in his defense and say: "Judge, your Honor, this man has been tried for this offense and has been convicted; he has served the punishment imposed by law." Do you mean that after a man has served a term of imprisonment for an offense that he should then again be tore away from his family and tried over again and punished anew when he has not committed a second offense. My friend's argument is not sound because he says that it prevents Pennsylvania from enforcing her laws. It does not. It is up to you men to say that Pennsylvania is not desired to be a persecutor; it is for you men and it is for this Legislature to say that when a man has served his time, that is enough, and he shall not be required to serve it over again. This bill gives the right to the defendant's lawyer to say to the Judge: "This man has been tried; I put in a plea that he was convicted and I ask that he be not tried again." There is nothing more to the bill than that I ask you to vote for it.

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr Speaker and members of the House. In answer to the gentleman from Cameron, I care not whether he is tried in the district court of the State or whether he is tried in the county court. In other words the law provides a second punishment for crime and provides a penalty in both a fine and imprisonment It is that thought that brings to my mind that where a fine, let us say for instance a thousand dollars and one year in jail or either or both, that if a man should be tried first in the district court and fined, we will say, $500. and a year in jail, and then be taken to the county court and tried again for the same offense and sentenced the same as he was in the other court. I cannot see any justice in that and I care not how great the criminal is, justice should be written over the courts and over the doors of every court house in this State. Justice is what everyone is after. We are not after persecution; it is prosecution. A great many people today have turned from prosecution and believe more in persecution than in prosecution and I have so far to see where in any instance there has been any persecution that has done any good. As I said before I care not whether that criminal is tried in the District Courts or is tried in the courts of Quarter Sessions of the county. If he has one trial and is fined and imprisoned under that sentence then that should end it, and he should not be taken into another court and fined and imprisoned the same in that court. It is not right, it is not just. The constitution provides, in capital cases, that you cannot be held twice in jeopardy, but that does not apply in misdemeanors, and I cannot see why it should not apply in one case as well as in another.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. I would like to ask the gentleman from Delaware, if he knows, where any man was tried and punished under this act?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Yes, sir.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Received both imprisonments?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Yes, sir.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. How many different cases do you recall of?

Mr. ALEXANDER. I think quite a number and two at least that I recall distinctly.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. They were not set free and arrested again?

Mr. ALEXANDER. No.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. They received both sentences?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Yes sir. One man I recall was Ralph Quinten; another man whose name I do not now recall.

Mr. ARMSTRONG. Only one case in eight years.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I say there has been a number, but that is the only one I give you that I remember his name. There is another man, I cannot think of his name now.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Alexander permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Do you object to the trial of a defendant in both the Federal and the State court for the same offense?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Yes sir.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Will the passage of this bill prevent that?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Yes sir, I believe it will.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. I think it was admitted by the sponsor of the bill that if a defendant was tried first in the State court he could thereafter be tried in the Federal court even though this bill becomes a law.

Mr. ALEXANDER. If that is true there is no use in having this act, but it is my opinion they cannot do it.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. You do not pretend to say that a vote of this Assembly will regulate the laws of the United States, do you?

Mr. ALEXANDER. The District Court is bound by the laws of the State in which it is acting. The laws of the District Court are the same as the jurisdiction in which it is sitting. For instance the District court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania sitting in Philadelphia, is bound by the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. The district court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania is a Federal court is it not?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Yes sir.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. And operates under the Federal laws?

Mr. ALEXANDER. Under the laws of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. GOODNOUGH. Under the Federal laws, I would suppose; I know of no state district court.

Mr. ALEXANDER. As I say now it must operate under the laws of the State in which it is operating. For instance,, you take a civil suit in the district court, that is brought in the district for one of two reasons; one is where the jurisdictions of the plaintiff and the defendant are different. The last is a trespass. Whatever the particular case is, the laws of the Commonwealth in which they are acting, but it is my opinion that this act will control, and control the case in the district court as well as in the court of Quarter Sessions.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Goodnough.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cameron, Mr. Goodnough, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GOODNOUGH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Does the gentleman from Cameron believe that a man ought to be tried for the same offense, either first in the district court and then in the state court or vice versa?

Mr. GOODNOUGH. I respectfully submit to the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Mr. WITKIN. Irrespective of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, we as a legislative body have a right to say whether or not we believe it to be a good or bad practice and irrespective of that decision, may I ask the gentleman from Cameron whether or not he believes as a legislator and not as following the decision of the court that a man ought to be tried twice for the same offense?

Mr. GOODNOUGH. I think an answer in the affirmative would place me in a position of critising the supreme court, a position I do not care to presume.

Mr. WITKIN. It appears to me that there has been sufficient said regarding this bill. There is one thing I want to say and that is in answer to the argument of the gentleman from Cameron. He seems to be of the opinion, if I gather his reasoning correctly, that the reason this bill is a bad bill is because of the fact that of a man is tried in the State court he could subsequently be tried in the Federal court. I agree with him, but I say this is a good bill and it ought to be passed because it provides that if he is tried first in the Federal Courts, he shall not then be tried in the local court. It is unfortunate we cannot legislate against the Federal Government to try a man that has been tried in the State court. We can only go as far as possible, therefore our jurisdiction ends when we say that when a man has had a trial in a Federal Court, he shall not be tried in the State Court for the same offense. We cannot go any further than that. Therefore I say that the position that the State Attorney can try a man first and then the Federal Government can come along and try him again and we cannot legislate against the United States trying him again, is not a good argument against the bill. Certainly there is not a man or woman in this House that wants to place a man twice in jeopardy, and where he has been tried once, certainly he should not be tried again, whether he was acquitted or convicted. Therefore I think this, we should not oppose the right of Pennsylvania to say as far as where we are concerned that where a man has been tried once, he cannot be tried again.

Mr. ALEXANDER. I want to correct the statement, I find I was in error. I find the same rule does not apply in criminal as in civil cases. I have never tried a criminal case in the district court, I have tried civil cases, and I find I am in error and Mr. Witkin is correct in the statement of his case.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were token.

Mr. HAAS. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

BILL ON THIRD READING. (SPECIAL ORDER)

The SPEAKER. The hour of 12:20 having arrived, we will take up the special order of business fixed for this time.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1075, entitled:

An Act to amend section eight of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of March one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws thirty-four) entitled "An act concerning alcoholic liquors prohibiting the manufacture advertising furnishing traffic in and possession of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes and articles and substances designed or intended for use in the manufacture thereof defining intoxicating liquor providing for penalties forfeitures and the abatement of nuisances and repealing existing alcoholic liquor laws and alcoholic liquor license laws" by changing the requirements for securing search warrants

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PERRY. Mr Speaker, I want to compliment the members of the House on the vote on the last bill. It shows that irrespective of the feeling of any one, that the members want to be absolutely fair so far as their votes are concerned on bills that are enacted into law here. Now, this bill under consideration is nothing more or less than an attempt to make it conform with the federal act or the Volsead act, as it is written. The bill is a protection not only, you might say, to those people who burn a brighter light than someone else burns, but it is a protection to each and every private individual throughout the State of Pennsylvania. The Senate and House of Representatives in passing the so-called Snyder act, in their wisdom had incorporated in there that no search and seizure warrant should be issued for any private dwelling unless first there was a purchase made there. However, the authorities in some portions of the state, and particularly in the city from which I come, to secure a search warrant to search a private dwelling, made affidavit that that private dwelling was a storage house, this complaint probably being made by some neighbor or someone who harbored some ill feeling against that particular man or woman, whichever it might be, and the magistrates issue a search warrant for a storage house, when that storage house is a private dwelling. Now, Mr. Speaker, in order to bring it back very vividly to your minds, only a short time ago in the city of Philadelphia one of these search warrants was served upon a private home, and that lady there being of a nervous disposition and all worked up, after the officers had made their search and found nothing, that lady collapsed and died. Those are the things that this bill seeks to correct. In other words, this bill says nothing except that a man must make a purchase before he swears to a search warrant, and it complies absolutely with the federal act. I ask the ladies and gentlemen of this House to consider that. We do not say that a man shall violate the laws of the State and get away scot free. We are all here for enforcement, we want to see our laws enforced, but we want to see the laws enforced in a safe and sound manner. In other words, if the officers of the law want to come into any man's place of business, be he a police officer, detective or whatever he may be, he must first secure evidence against that man to swear out a search and seizure warrant to search his premises, and if you pass this bill it will compel these officers to do that.

Mr. HOLMES. Mr. Speaker, I do not know whether I interpret this series of bills correctly or not, but I think the purpose in back of these bills is to take the teeth out of the enforcement act as now in force in the state of Pennsylvania. I think we all appreciate the fact that one of the fundamental problems of today is the solution of this problem, and I do not believe that we will ever get anywhere by coming here, men who have always led a temperate life, by them saying and thinking things which will lead you to believe that every man who takes a drink of liquor or in any way indulges himself, is an outcast or an outlaw, nor do I think we will get anywhere by the men who are not in sympathy with law enforcement relative to the Volstead act, thinking and saying that every man who votes against this bill is a fanatic. I believe the question today should be solved by the people, should be soberly worked out, and I believe we have enforcement laws and laws on the statue books of this Commonwealth and the nation, which will fully protect the law-abiding citizens. We have got to acknowledge that we have within the confines of our country a foe which challenges the supremacy and authority of the federal government, a foe which not only challenges the supremacy of the law of the federal government, but which challenges the authority of forty-eight commonwealths. And so, as I said previously, we cannot some of us appreciate the tenacity with which that appetite clings to some men who have been used to strong drink, and we must sympathize with them, but at the present time we find, the national government establishing a stronger enforcement body of men, in order that the laws may be carried out. We find the Governor of this Commonwealth, in his inaugural address, stating to the people of this state that there shall be no backward step. Why then put this problem up to the Governor? If we as lawmakers and other officers of this Commonwealth will only perform the simple duties and live up to the oath that we took, there will be no question as to the solution of this. About fifty years ago a noble woman had the conception of a drinkless nation. Many of the people called her a fanatic. Others thought she had lost her reasoning powers, and we have seen finally that the people of this great country of ours have spoken and have put on the books of our national government the Volstead act, and it is up to us as members of this House and citizens of this great country of ours, to support that cause as long as we have a law, and we are in duty bound to obey and defend the laws of this Commonwealth. So I say that the only object of this series of bills is to weakeh tne enforcement act now established in the state of Pennsylvania. I always dread to see these bills come up, because, my friends, we must acknowledge that there are many honest men on both sides, and many a poor man here this day by his vote will commit political suicide. So let us once and for all vote down these laws and give our state and nation a square chance and a square deal. It took one hundred and fifty years to settle the slavery question. We have only been fifty years on this job, and I am thoroughly convinced that in fifty years from now this problem will be solved and we will have that drinkless nation which we all hope and expect to have.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, those who know me very well know that I have been a good, true and loyal disciple of the Honorable David H. Lane, one of the stalwart Republican leaders of this Commonwealth. One of the first things he taught me in politics was that a reformer always digs his own grave, and in arguing on this bill I want to say to you reformers that you destroy the purpose that you want to have accepted. I will not tell you the name of the particular division leader, but in that division that leader was particularly annoyed by two or three prohibitionists. Philadelphia was given a wonderful enforcement gentleman whose name was Butler. That division leader, knowing these prohibitionists were annoying him and tantalizing him, sent an anonymous letter to General Butler, and on that anonymous letter a search warrant was issued and the prohibitionists' homes were searched. You never heard such a howl in your life as those people put up, and they never after that voted again, for prohibition. Now, Mr. Speaker, there is no more sacred place in the world than home. There is no better place to go to when you are tired; there is no better place to rest. But if you are going to put into the hands of the ill-advised reformers the means of going around and searching your homes on anonymous letters, at two or three o'clock in the morning, you must save up and prepare yourself for a doctor bill for your wife. I have seen in my practice, case after case where what we call the "unit" comes around at two or three o'clock in the morning with a search warrant and disturbs the whole house; they find nothing, but they make every one sick. Are you going to continue in a line of enforcement that does not mean enforcement, that does not mean a solution of the question, that does not mean a correction of the liquor traffic, but only means the destruction and ruin of the American home. I ask you members in all fairness by your vote today to show that reason is returning in Pennsylvania.

Mr. FRANK N. MOORE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is very refrtshing to me to listen to the applause which the other side of the House has given. We all know that when the this question is robbed of all camouflage that is placed about, that it is simply an attempt to hamper and interfere with the enforcement of the law. I listened with a great deal of pride to my friend from Philadelphia, describing the sacredness of the home. It is one of the most glorious and beautiful things which I have ever heard coming from that learned gentleman. Why should the home be desecrated by bringing into it a speak-easy, a bootlegging shop under the guise of the sacredness of home. Our country people who do not live in Philadelphia and are not acquainted, only get our information from Philadelphia papers. We are led to believe that there are a good many homes in Philadelphia that are not so sacred as the picture they have have here. Whether we are right or wrong we have that impression. Now, Mr. Speaker when a man has a home, and he is conducting one of those proper homes, it is very rarely that that home is invaded by a search warrant. He may have that home and there may be an alarm of fire, and the fire boys rush to the protection of that home, would you dispense with the fire company because they didn't find a fire at that time, or it had been put out before they arrived? Someone here says that comparison is not fair, but I got my inspiration from my colleague.

Mr. Speaker, the plain truth is, this is simply an attempt to undermine our laws, to continue this fight and it is being asked for by what class of people? Upon the one side the dry question is backed and adopted by the best class of citizens residing in this Union, it is the God-fearing, man-loving class of people who are asking that the liquor interests should be abolished. It is the lowest type of people that we know of upon every hand that are pushing the question, and by reason of that fact many of our Philadelphia friends and Allegheny associates are driven to take the position which they are taking. It is appaling to think that as high a type of citizenship as comes here from these cities, they should stand up here and defend this cause which they know in their hearts is wrong; the cause they know is riveting upon the weaker brother at home the chains of intemperance; the cause they are not only going to answer to their constituents at home but for which they are going to answer to God Almighty at the last great day. Now, you all know what this means Vote the convictions of your heart.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I was somewhat amused by the gentleman from Bradford, who leads you to believe that all those who come from Bradford County are "Holier than thou" and better than those who come from Philadelphia and Allegheny counties. I challenge the gentleman's remarks and I would ask him to look through the delegations from Philadelphia and Allegheny and find out whether there is a man in the delegations from Philadelphia and Allegheny that does not meet up four-square with any member from the country or Bradford County.

Mr. DeFREHN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I attended the funeral services of old John Barleycorn. It was the most enthusiastic and most joyful funeral occasion that I ever attended. I never claimed to be a prophet nor the son of a prophet, but I did venture at that time far enough into this line to say, "John Barleycorn is constitutionally dead, but he is going to require a tremendous monument to hold him down." We find every little while an effort made to resurrect him. He is taken out of the grave, he is stood up and by his friends is held up, and they try to tell him, "John you are more alive today than you ever have been." They try to put the old sword into his hand and say, "John you have slain your thousands, but you are going to slay your tens of thousands." I don't care in what guise he may be brought up, and what may be said about him, he is the same old character, no matter how much powder or rouge you try to put upon him to make up a new face. He is the same old fellow you cannot cover his scars.

I remember some years ago a Christian church in New York city undertook to make his character respectable by opening a saloon to be run by that church. This was the most widely advertised saloon that ever opened its doors. I saw on the bulletin boards outside of that saloon hundreds of clippings from papers from all over this country, editorials commenting upon the church and the saloon. I went inside the doors of that saloon to see how they were doing business. The bar tender was behind the bar, one man in front of it, and I was the other person in this saloon. I walked around through the different rooms, saw a lot of empty tables and chairs, but no customers there, while at the same time I will venture to say that in hundreds of saloons in that city the bars were lined with men who were drinking and selling drink. That saloon soon closed its doors as unprofitable, they could not make it go. Why was it? It was because the church is an establishment of Jesus Christ; the saloon and all that goes with, all its evil, is an establishment of the devil. The two cannot live together, they never have and they never will. We must take one side or the other. I hope gentlemen we will do what we can to vote this down and every other measure that comes up for the same purpose, and let John Barleycorn be dead forevermore.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1703, entitled:

An Act to amend clause two of section three hundred and eighty-six of an act approved the fourteenth day of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and forty) entitled "An act concerning townships and revising amending and consolidating the law relating thereto" as amended

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RICHARDSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. RICHARDSON. Mr. Speaker, as a matter of information, will the sponsor, Mr. Witkin, give us some clear exposition of this bill for the benefit of the boys back here in the bleachers who are from the townships?

Mr. WITKIN. I will be very frank about it and will say that prior to reading this bill, I knew very little about it. It was given to me by someone in Philadelphia to introduce and in reading the bill I notice it is merely an amendment to the Pamphlet Laws of 1917 by inserting townships of the second class and the word streets is added to the provision of highways for lighting purposes. It merely provides that streets shall be lighted in lieu of highways and also gives the same power for the lighting of streets that existed prior to the passage of the act of 1917 for the purpose of lighting highways and extends that to the streets which seem to be the only purpose of the bill.

Mr. RICHARDSON. The light shed on the bill is satisfactory. I thank the gentleman.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 827, entitled:

An Act to amend section two of the art approved the fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred twelve) entitled "An act authorizing and regulating the employment of convicts and prisoners on the public highways"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HOWE. Mr. Speaker, I desire the interrogate the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Hess.

The SPEAKER, Will the gentleman from Lancaster, Mr. Hess, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. HOWE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Lancaster County if this bill was made a law, would you be allowed to work prisoners on the public highway?

Mr. HESS. You would. The only change made by this act is to remove the optional feature from the present law. At the present it is optional with the convict. This act strikes out the optional feature with the convict and makes it possible to use the convict labor on the State highway-

Mr. HOWE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I propose to vote no on this bill. I just wanted to call your attention to the provisions of it. Sometimes they work men on the public highways who are under conviction of a crime and by using these men they are keeping other men out of work. I just wanted to call the attention of the House to this fact. You can use your own judgment.

Mr. HESS. Mr. Speaker, and ladies and gentlemen of the House, The State highway program is large enough to employ all of the available labor and at the same time to give employment to the convict labor of this State. We have one county now that has been trying this experiment during the past year. They already built something in the neighborhood of two miles of road during the last summer which has the reputation of being the best piece of State highway in that county. One of the County Commissioners during a conversation made this expression: That it was amazing to him to know how these convicts, how after they have for a while been employed in road construction and learned how to work, how they had been improved, both morally and physically and when their terms had expired and they were sent out among the citizens of the Commonwealth that in not a single instance did they return. These men learned they could work and went out and got a job themselves and became useful citizens that were self-sustaining.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

(f) The act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws four hundred twenty-nine) is hereby further amended to read as follows

19 Of the salaries herein provided for teachers supervisors principals and all other members of the teaching and supervisory staff in the public schools of the Commonwealth except part time and night school teachers the Commonwealth shall pay for the biennium year beginning June first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three and each

biennium year thereafter to such school district as comply with the laws governing the public schools of the Commonwealth for each of said persons employed therein as shown by the certificate herein required to be filed with the Superintendent of Public Instruction in the November immediately preceding any such biennium year as follows In school districts of the first class for each member of the teaching and supervisory staff twenty-five per centum (25%) of the annual biennium salary prescribed herein for elementary teachers in such districts in school districts of the second and third class for each member of the teaching and supervisory staff thirty-five per centum (35%) of the annual minimum salary prescribed herein for elementary teachers in such districts in school districts of the fourth class for each member of the teaching and supervisory staff fifty per centum (50%) of the annual minimum salary prescribed herein for teachers in such districts Provided That the amount paid by the Commonwealth to a school district in any of the foregoing classes which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or less shall be seventy-five per centum (75%) of the annual minimum salary prescribed herein for teachers in such districts and that the amount paid to a school district in any of the foregoing classes which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) and not more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) shall be sixty per centum (60%) of the annual minimum salary prescribed herein for teachers in such districts Provided That where any member of the teaching or supervisory staff receives less salary than the minimum salary prescribed by the foregoing salary schedule for the class of district in which he is teaching there shall be paid to the district a corresponding per centum of the salary paid to such persons Provided further That in districts of the first second third and fourth classes the minimum salary of teachers supervisors and principles employed in the extension schools and classes of the Commonwealth established for the education of adults and legally employed minors and not designated as continuation or other vocational schools or classes shall be one dollar ($1.00) per hour the minimum annual increment in salary in such extension schools and classes shall be twenty-five cents ($.25) per hour the minimum number of such annual increments shall be two (2) And provided further That for each member of the teaching and supervisory staff employed by any school district in extension schools and classes approved by the Department of Public Instruction established for the education of adults and legally employed minors and not designated as continuation or other vocational schools or classes the Commonwealth shall pay to the several districts the same per centum of the minimum salary herein required to be paid to teachers in such extension schools and classes as is paid to such districts of the minimum salary of the full time teachers And provided further That for each full time teacher of a special class and for each full time supervisor or principal of special schools or classes organized by any school district and approved under legislation providing for the special education of physically or mentally handicapped pupils there shall be paid to the district in addition to other payments herein provided sums as follows To districts of the first class twenty-five per centum (25%) and to other districts thirty per centum (30%) of the minimum salary respectively prescribed herein for elementary teachers in such respective districts and for each part time teacher supervisor or principal employed in approved special education a fraction of such amounts proportional to the time for which such person is employed And provided further That the total amount paid to any school district on account of any such teacher supervisor or principal employed in special education shall not exceed eighty per centum (80%) of the salary actually paid to such persons Provided further That the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall annually apportion to each fourth class district the sum of two hundred dollars ($200) for each school permanently closed or discontinued in such district since nineteen hundred eleven or which may hereafter be permanently closed or discontinued or which was heretofore permanently closed or discontinued under the provisions of the act of April twenty-fifth one thousand nine hundred and one entitled "An act to provide for the centralization of township schools and to provide high schools for townships" and also to each such school district which instead of erecting a school building when required for the accommodation of pupils or providing for the transportation of pupils to an existing school building in said district has arranged for the education of such pupils in the grade schools of an adjoining school district without transportation and all payments heretofore made by the Commonwealth and all requisitions and warrants heretofore drawn for payments for schools permanently closed or discontinued under the provisions of said act are hereby ratified validated and declared legal And provided further That in addition to the payments herein provided on account of members of the teaching and supervising staff employed in any school district and on account of schools permanently closed or discontinued in any district each district shall receive its proportionate share of the minimum salaries required to be paid to such additional members of the teaching and supervisory staff as may have been employed subsequently to the certification to the Superintendent of Public Instruction in the November previous to the biennium year and its apportionment as herein provided for additional schools permanently closed or discontinued subsequent to such certification Payments required by this provisio shall be made after certification to the Superintendent of Public Instruction in the November of the biennium year in connection with and in addition to the first quarterly payment of the following biennium as hereinafter provided

The true valuation per teacher for each district shall be determined by the State Council of Education on data and material submitted by the officers of such district in the annual report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction It shall be found by dividing the true valuation of the district by the number of full time teachers which number shall include all teachers principals supervisors and superintendents employed in the vocational and nonvocational schools of the district for the year covered by such report which number in districts of the fourth class shall also include one teacher for each teacher who at the time of the closing of any school in such district subsequent to June first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three not since reopened was employed in such school The true valuation of the taxable property of each school district shall be obtained by dividing the amount of the assessed valuation certified in the annual report of the district for the school year ending June thirtieth one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two and every second year thereafter by the average rate of assessment certified in such annual reports for the three years immediately preceding the date on which such true valuation is determined For the two fiscal years beginning on June first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three and ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five such true valuation of the district shall be determined during the month of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three on the data and material available in the report filed with the Superintendent of Public Instruction on August first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two The true valuation of each school district for the two fiscal years begining on June first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five and ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven and for each biennium thereafter shall be determined during the month of October one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four and in the month of October of every second year thereafter The State Council of Education is hereby given full power and authority to make such investigations to take such actions and to institute such proceedings as may be necessary to determine any of the questions that may be raised in the determination and adjustment of the aforesaid true valuations and the decisions which such council reaches in such questions shall be final and conclusive

Section 2 That section one thousand four hundred and six of said act as last amended by section two of the act approved the thirteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and twenty-eight) is hereby further amended to read as follows

Section 1406 The board of school directors of any school district in this Commonwealth may on account of the small number of pupils in attendance or the condition of the then existing school building or for the purpose of better gradation and classification or other reasons close any one or more of the public schools in its district and upon such school or schools being so closed the pupils who belong to the same shall be assigned to other schools or upon cause shown be permitted to attend schools in other districts

Provided That whenever the average term attendance of pupils regularly enrolled at any one room school in any school district of the fourth class or township which is a district of the third class is ten or less than ten the board of school directors shall close such school If the board of school directors does not deem it feasible to close such school it may present its petition to the State Council of Education showing the reasons why such school should not be closed thereupon the State Council of Education shall consider such petition and shall make such order as may seem just in the premises

Provided however If any school as aforesaid has been closed because the average term attendance of pupils enrolled was ten or less than ten and has been reopened upon an order of the State Council of Education and the average term attendance is twelve or more after such reopening such school shall be considered reestablished Provided further That in any district of the fourth class or township which is a district of the third class pupils who reside within that part of the school district last served by any elementary school closed since the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven or within a district all of whose schools have been closed or who are assigned to a training school of a State Normal School and reside one and one-half miles or more from the school to which they are assigned shall be furnished proper transportation at the expense of the district to and from the school to which they are assigned

And provided further That whenever the board of school directors in any fourth class district or township which is a district of the third class agrees to or is required to provide transportation for any pupils such board of school directors may upon petition of the parent guardian or person in parental relation to any of said pupils in lieu of providing such transportation pay for suitable board and lodging for such pupils if such board and lodging is secured in the home of a near relative of the pupil or in a proper school or home approved by the person making the petition Provided That in no case shall the State's share exceed one dollar ($1.00) per day per pupil for the actual number of days such pupil is in attendance at school not exceeding five days in any one week

Provided That if the Department of Public Instruction approves the transportation as to methods and means and the contracts provided therefor the Commonwealth will pay annually to the school district furnishing such transportation an amount determined by (a) the true valuation per teacher per district as provided by section one thousand two hundred and ten of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" as amended and by (b) a given percentum of the sum which has been expended during the previous school year by such a school district for transporting pupils of said schools to and from said schools as follows The amounts paid by the Commonwealth to a school district which has a true valuation per teacher of assessable property of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or less shall be seventy-five (75) per centum more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) to one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) sixty (60) per centum and more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) fifty (50) per centum Provided That in case said school district has purchased or shall hereafter purchase an approved school conveyance which is used exclusively for approved school purposes said sum may include a reasonable charge for depreciation and repairs not to exceed fifteen (15) per centum of the cost of said approved school conveyance Provided That the State's share of depreciation and repairs shall not exceed one hundred dollars ($100) per vehicle per year Provided further That the State's share for transportation shall not exceed one dollar ($1.00) per day per pupil for the actual number of days such pupil is transported to and from school Provided further That districts receiving reimbursement on the basis of seventy-five (75) per centum and sixty (60) per centum shall not receive more than four thousand dollars ($4,000) in any one school year from the State for transportation Provided further That districts receiving reimbursement on the basis of fifty (50) per centum shall not receive more than three thousand dollars ($3,000) in any one year from the State for transportation And provided That where any school district of the fourth class which instead of erecting a school building when required for the accommodation of pupils or providing for the transportation of pupils to an existing school building in said district has arranged for the education of such pupils in the grade schools of any adjoining district without transportation such district shall be entitled upon approval thereof by the State Council of Education to receive from the Commonwealth aid for the payment of tuition to such adjoining district equal to seventy-five per centum (75%) of the cost of such tuition where the true assessed value per teacher of assessable property is fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) or less sixty per centum (60%) where said assessed value per teacher is more than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) and not more than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) and fifty per centum (50%) in all other of such districts

On or before the first day of July of each year each school district of the third and fourth class transporting pupils as herein provided shall present to the Superintendent of Public Instruction in such form as he may prescribe and on blanks to be furnished by him a sworn statement of the amount expended during the previous school year for transporting pupils to and from school as herein provided On the basis of such a statement the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall by requisition upon the State Treasurer pay during the month of September to such school district such reimbursement for the previous school year as is provided for in this act

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1656, entitled:

An Act creating an Insurance Law Commission defining its powers and duties and making an appropriation

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. CHESTER A. RHODES. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Huber.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna, Mr. Huber, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HUBER. With pleasure, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. CHESTER A. RHODES. Will the gentleman from Lackawanna, explain the necessity for a bill of this kind at the present time?

Mr. HUBER. This is a bill given to me by the Insurance Department and Colonel Taggart, the Insurance Commissioner, said it was absolutely necessary that the laws be revised.

Mr. CHESTER A. RHODES. Is it not true that we just revised the insurance laws a few years ago?

Mr. HUBER. That I am not able to state. This is a department bill.

Mr. CHESTER A. RHODES. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, what I want to call attention to is the fact that on the 3rd reading calendar today we have six bills all of them creating commissions. Taking them all together they carry a provision for appropriations of $108,000. We are creating too many commissions. Personally I see no reason for continuing this farce. Only a few years ago we revised the insurance laws as one who is in close touch with insurance men I say that there seems to be no demand for the revision of the laws at this time. I want to call your attention that on today's third reading calendar we have three bills of this kind creating commissions and we have passed three similar bills. These six bills carry with them appropriations for $108,000, with no tangible results.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1456, entitled

An Act to amend section one thousand two hundred and two of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws three hundred and nine) entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" requiring teachers to be citizens

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, before you is a bill rightfully called and which can rightfully be called an all-American proposition. It is an amendment to the Educational Code. The Civic club of Philadelphia has seen fit to constitute two or three members of that club a committee to pass on all legislation that is offered in this body and they have sent a circular to you reading: "A half dozen bills introduced by the Hon. Clinton A. Sowers affecting the board of Education and public schools of Philadelphia have come before the civic club for consideration and each of them being of no importance have been disapproved by it." You have all today received another letter from the Patriotic Sons of America from their legislative committee and they condemn this bill.

Now I want to read to you the bill which is just about four lines long and then I am going to ask whether or not the legislative committee of the Patriotic Sons of America really function and really stand for Americanism, which that order stands for. The bill is an amendment and says this; referring to teachers: "a teacher must be a native born citizen of the United States or if naturalized by his or her own action or if a minor by the action of his or her parent or parents must have been so naturalized for a period of at least two years." Did the legislative committee of the Patriotic Sons of America read that bill when they condemned it? Now Mr. Speaker and members of the House, bills come here by inspiration and the inspiration for this bill is this: In my Legislative district lives a man whose allegiance is to Russia and he prides himself on being a Bolshevik and under the esteemed merit system of the Philadelphia schools, that abolished system, they put that Bolshevik in the public schools in Philadelphia to teach Americanism and have that Bolshevik who they put in that school to teach the doctrines of Rusia to our young citizens, that has too committed on one of his scholars a rape and I hold in my hands a true and correct copy of the bill of indictment that was found by the grand jury of Philadelphia wherein that man was charged with rape. The civic club of Philadelphia, a club that prides itself of its reform and its wisdom, condemns that bill and can find nothing wrong in the schools of Philadelphia, and I hold in my hands that indictment.

Now members of the House I have here a letter written by Magistrate James P. Casey, not an appointment of the Philadelphia organization, but an appointment of Governor Pinchot, a Magistrate appointed by him, and he says at the hearing after swearing this Bolshevik "after swearing him I again asked him if he was naturalized, and he stated 'no.'" He describes in the letter why he believes this man is actually guilty of the offense charged against him. I have another letter from the police department of Philadelphia that investigated the commission of this crime, and they tell me over their own hand that they investigated the charge and they believe that every word of it was true. The indictment is pending and untried. You have read in the public print interviews given by the school directors of the city of Philadelphia from their leading Superintendent down to the ones who have been guided by the leading ones above, that there is absolutely no truth in this charge. Those of you who have read "Goslins" will find in that book that was published in 1924 that the esteemed Superintendent of Education of the city of Philadelphia promised to chase out all of these radicals and yet you find in 1924 to this date he has retained them and not chased them out, and members of the House, the Committee on Education only yesterday reported a pension bill for that man that he may retire on a $7,000. pension from the State and $2000. from the county. Mr. Speaker I will now close my remarks and ask you Americans to say by your votes to-day whether Bolsheviks shall be chased from our schools notwithstanding Superintendent Broome.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I desire the interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers.

The SPEAKER. Will gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOWERS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Does the gentleman from Philadelphia know how many unnaturalized school teachers there are in Philadelphia at the present time?

Mr. SOWERS. I put that question to the Department of Public Education and they told me the books are closed to the public. I sent a letter to a reform club thinking they might have more influence than I had and they replied that my letter was not worthy of notice.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill while cloaked with a probable semblance of merit is one of a long list of bills and resolutions introduced by the gentleman from Philadelphia to hamper and heckle and put on edge the public school system not only of Philadelphia but throughout the State. At this time I do not regard it as necessary to answer any of the charges made by the gentleman from Philadelphia. If the bills reach the floor of the House or if he deems it desirable, to pull his resolution out I feel that at that time sufficient will be given to the gentleman from Philadelphia. Suffice is to say at this time that the bills and resolutions come from no organized body or public demand, but are the expression only of the sponsor. So far as the present bill is concerned may I answer the question I put to the gentleman from Philadelphia by reading a statement from the Board of Education. That statement that unnaturalized foreigners are employed as teachers are misleading. Out of a total of 7700 teachers there are fewer than 50 or less than 7/10ths of 1% who have not completed the process of naturalization and there is not a single teacher in the service who is not native born who has failed to take out his first papers. In 1917 the Board of Education took action leading to the above result and on the 8th of March, 1927 followed this by prescribing that hereafter no person excepting a native born citizen or one that has been naturalized shall be employed under the public school system. So the members of the House can see how absolutely unnecessary a bill is of this kind. In the first place while we all want Americans teaching Americans in the schools that is what has been the result in the Philadelphia schools since 1917. Of these few teachers not born on native soil there are none but what have already declared their allegience to America although they have not all completed their naturalization. In other words out of the 7700 teachers there are less than 50. I would say if this bill were not one of a series of bills which I regard as designed out of personal spite, I would say some consideration should be given to it but because it is not necessary and because the situation is already covered by the action of the Board of Education and because of the fact that so few of them have not yet completed the process of naturalization and because I say we should not encourage reprehensible attacks on the school system of Pennsylvania, I say for these reasons the bill should be voted down.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SOWERS. I would like to ask the gentleman, would not the passage of this bill prevent the employment of a single Bolshevik?

Mr. BLUMBERG. As I said in my remarks, that is already covered by the resolution already passed by the Board of Education in 1917.

Mr. SOWERS. Would not the passage of this bill prevent the employment of Bolsheviks in our school system?

Mr. BLUMBERG. That is already covered by our present system. I don't know what you mean by Bolshevik.

Mr. SOWERS. I mean a citizen of Soviet Russia.

Mr. BLUMBERG. That fact is already covered and there is no necessity for the passage of this bill.

Mr. SOWERS. In 1924 the same promise was made, but in March of this year we find the subject of Bolshevik Russia within our public school system teaching our school children and there is the indictment against him and I ask you gentlemen to support this all-American measure.

Mr. STERLING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, my friend from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, made an argument to you, but the point so far as this bill is concerned I deemed was wrong or I would have been glad to go along with him. The crime of which he says this particular man has been charged and indicted, but yet untried, is a crime, but it is not particularly confined to that particular type of men or nation. It is a crime found not only among American people but among all other nationalities so that the commission of the crime by the particular subject mentioned not being the subject of this bill, you must return to the subject of the bill. But to say that because a man employed in the school system has committed a crime is a reason why we should pass this bill is so foolhardy that it requires little or no further discussion.

Ladies and gentlemen of this House, if Mr. Sowers, in his capacity as a lawyer, stood in a public place and heard any client of his who was indicted but untried and who was maligned as he maligned this man here, he would take steps mighty quick to stop it. I think he is offending the intelligence of this House, and I think it is now in order that the remarks he has made here concerning a man who has been indicted, but who is entitled by all of the laws of this State and Country to a fair trial and a presumption of innocense until he has been found guilty, should be expunged from the records of this House. I am glad that they were mentioned here because the maliciousness that comes with this legislation. In view of the further fact that Mr. Sowers has tied into this argument a charge against a man for which he has not been tried and found guilty the bill should be defeated and the House should go on record and show its intelligence by defeating this measure overwhelmingly, and I ask you to do so.

Mr. FRANK D. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLUMBERG. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FRANK D. EVANS. Do I understand rightly that the city of Philadelphia at the present time employs less than 50 aliens as teachers in the public school?

Mr. BLUMBERG. That is correct sir.

Mr. FRANK D. EVANS. You do admit there are aliens teaching at the present time?

Mr. BLUMBERG. No, as I said before these 50 have all declared their intention and taken out their firss papers and are in the process of completing their naturalization. You see you may have this situation, a young man who is a foreigner may be by the standards permitted to teach in the school system before he attains the age of 21. He cannot possibly get his citizen papers until two years after that age so he may under the school system teach at 20 or 21 years of age without being able to resort to the courts to get his naturalizaion and in and among these 50 you will find a large percentage of that class.

Mr. FRANK D. EVANS. Are you able to answer whether or not there have been any employed at the age of 21, or in other words that have received their education in foreign countries and come over to this country and passed the examination they are required to, that are teaching the public school children of this country.

Mr. BLUMBERG. I can only answer the gentleman by answering what has already been said, that in the school system among the 7700 teachers there are fewer than 50 who are not already naturalized and among those all have declared their intentions and are in the process of completing their naturalization.

Mr. FRANK D. EVANS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House: It seems to me this is a question of large moment at the present time. Whether or not there is personal feeling among the citizenry of Philadelphia I do not know. Whether or not personal enmity or other such has entered into the argument, I am not acquainted of. I do not know that either. But from the merits of the bill, and purely from the merits of the bill, I feel justified in asking that every member of the House vote for the bill, primarily because I do not think it wise to leave at the discretion of the school boards throughout the State whether or not they shall employ some one that does not know anything whatever about the school system of the United States. I believe, as everyone else in this House knows to be a fact, that when you are employed you should know something about what you are going to do. Every advertisement you read in the papers requires that you have some experience. If you have a position as a bookkeeper you must go to school and learn the system. When you get into business you find that the system taught in school is entirely different from that used by the corporation or firm. Therefore, I feel that the passage of this bill is a necessity.

SPEAKER BLUETT IN THE CHAIR.

Mr. MILLAR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, Mr. Sowers does not insult my intelligence when he asks us to vote for this bill to prohibit a system which is permitted to exist in the schools of Philadelphia today, that is, that there are fifty unnaturalized people teaching our children. If the Board of Education had been sincere and honest in the policy which Mr. Blumberg stated was adopted in 1917 there was ample time for every teacher who who was not naturalized then to have since become naturalized, and the fact that they have not made an order until March, 1927, is to my mind an indication that they were not sincere in what they said in 1917. It can see no justification, nor can I see any argument in favor of the perpetuation of a system that permits that to exist, and coming from Philadelphia with children in the public schools, I am sincerely in favor of this bill and ask you to unanimously support it.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1700, entitled:

An Act to amend section five of the act approved the first day of July one thousand nine hundred and nineteen (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred and eight) entitled "An act to fix tht salaries of the judges of the Supreme Court the judges of the Superior Court the judges of the court of common pleas and the judges of the orphans' courts"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill Mr. Hall.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hall, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALL. I will Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DONNELL. Is it not a fact that this bill is the one to take the place so far as Dauphin County is concerned as the bill that just passed a few weeks ago and which was pickeled over in the Senate?

Mr. HALL. This bill takes care of the Dauphin County Judges in so far as their remuneration for State work is concerned. The Dauphin County Judges according to the statutes of Pennsylvania have been burdened with the interpretation of certain state laws. They have had a great deal of work in addition to their county work and for a long time back they have received extra remuneration.

Mr. DONNELL. At the present time they get three thousand dollars a year for what they do for the State outside of their regular salary?

Mr. HALL. Yes sir.

Mr. DONNELL. This is a salary raiser giving them a thousand dollars?

Mr. HALL. This increases the salaries from three to four thousand dollars, putting it on the same basis as it was prior to 1919.

Mr. DONNELL. Is it not a fact that you are also getting an extra Judge in Dauphin County?

Mr. HALL. No sir, not in Dauphin County.

Mr. DONNELL. Mr. Speaker and Ladies and gentlemen of the House, a few weeks ago we voted on a Judges salary raiser bill giving the judges of the various counties of the State a liberal increase in salary. Apparently some place, some where, somehow, that bill has got lost, and now a few of the counties of the State have introduced bills increasing the salary of their judges and apparently the rest of the judges can work on what they have been getting. If that other salary bill cannot become a law then I would suggest that no salary bill for the raising of judges salaries become a law until all of the counties get the same recognition or at least in proportion to the work the judges do. Therefore for that reason I will have to vote no on this and I would ask you to vote with me.

Mr. HALL. Ladies and Gentlemen of the House, with all due reference to the gentleman who has just spoken against this bill, I feel that it differs somewhat from any others that may have been introduced to raise judges salaries. The compensation referred to in this bill is for state work performed by the judges of Dauphin County. They are required to do it because of statutes that the Legislature has passed heretofore. The state work is given preference in the Dauphin County courts and county cases must be set aside in order that state cases may be put on the calendar. The cases have increased more than 30% since 1919 when that salary was reduced from $4,000 to $3,000, and just to show you what our judges are doing in Dauphin County for the state let me give you an idea of the different subject matters that have come before them during the last biennium: constitutionality of the Administrative Code; of the old age pension act; of the right of retiring judges; of the right of the Sesqui-Centennial to open on Sunday; several cases involving time for submission of constitutional amendments to the people; several cases involving the Securities Act, all of this work has consumed considerable time. I shall ask you to vote for this bill to give the judges this salary.

Mr. DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hall.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Hall, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. HALL. I will Mr. Speaker.

Mr. DONNELL. Will you kindly give us the amount of the salary of the judges of Dauphin County at the present time?

Mr. HALL. Their salary for county work is the same as all the other judges of fourth class counties which amount is $10,000.

Mr. DONNELL. Is that the entire salary, the county salary?

Mr. HALL. That is the county salary and they receive in addition to that $3,000 for the state work.

Mr. DONNELL. Making a total of $13,000 of salary?

Mr. HALL. Yes sir.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1562, entitled:

An Act to amend section three of article nine of the act approved the ninth day of June one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws seven hundred fifty-six) entitled "An act to provide for the health and safety of persons employed in and about the bituminous coal mines of Pennsylvania and for the protection and preservation of property connected therewith"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. CHRISTIAN MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to have the gentleman who is the sponsor of this bill explain the merits of it. Having a practical knowledge of mines and mining, and being rather familiar with the mining laws of the State of Pennsylvania, I can see that some clauses in this amendment are going to add safety and protection to the miners. There is one clause there that says that the headings in a gaseous mine shall be one hundred feet apart, if I interpret that bill correctly. If that is the case, then I am absolutely opposed to this bill and would ask every fairminded member of this House to vote no.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. HOWE. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1562, file folio 4349, be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. READER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RECESS.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair will declare a recess until 8:30 o'clock P. M. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Whereupon, the House took a recess until 8:30 o'clock P. M.

AFTER RECESS.

The House reconcurred at 8:30 o'clock P. M.

The SPEAKER (Thomas Bluett) in the Chair.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1418, entitled:

An Act to amend section three of the Act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred and fifty-eight) entitled "An act establishing a State Employes' Retirement System and creating a Retirement Board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the use and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guarantee by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" as amended

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

NAYS—0.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1333, entitled:

An Act to amend section seven of an act approved the twelfth day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (Pamphlet Laws six hundred and three) entitled "An act concerning conditional sales and to make uniform the law relating thereto" providing for the recording of certain conditional sale contracts in the prothonotary's office and repealing inconsistent legislation

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DONNELL. Mr. Speaker, I just wish to call the attention of the House to the fact that this is another salary raiser. Philadelphia has had one or two or three additional judges granted them since this House has been in session, and now they want the salary raised.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I think the gentleman is on the wrong bill. The bill in question deals with conditional sales, and is a simplifier, merely simplifying the conditions that exist for the filing of agreements in two places. This means they will go to one place, in that way is a salary reducer.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,
The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1535, as follows:

An Act to amend paragraph five of section eight and clauses one two three and four of section twelve of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred fifty-eight) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" providing for the payment by the State of annuities to certain former State employes retired for disability before the establishment of the present State employes' retirement system

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That paragraph five of section eight of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of June one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred fifty-eight) entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve excepting annuities allowances returns benefits and rights from taxation and judicial process and providing penalties" is hereby amended to read as follows

(5) The actuary after making the first valuation required shall determine the present value of the liability on account of all State annuities payable to original members and the percentage of the total compensation paid to all members during the preceding year which is equivalent to one twenty-fifth of the said liability The treasurer shall pay into a fund to be known as State annuity reserve fund number two annually beginning with the month of June nineteen hundred twenty-five and until the accumulated reserve equals the present value of said liability the amount as certified to him by the retirement board which shall be equal to the per centum determined in accordance with this section of the total compensation paid to all members for service during the preceding year The actuary shall immediately after January first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight determine the value of the liability on account of all State annuities payable to disabled former State employes under the provisions of this amendment and the State Treasurer shall thereafter make such additional annual payments into the State annuity reserve fund number two as the retirement board shall certify to be necessary in order to pay such State annuities and to maintain such fund in the same manner and the same relative strength as it is now maintained Each annual payment shall be at least three per centum greater than the preceding annual payment Provided That in every case the amount shall be sufficient when combined with that in the fund to provide the pensions payable by the Commonwealth during the year then current to original members then retired or to be retired and the annuity payments to former State employes as provided in this act Upon the retirement of an original member or the award of an annuity to a disabled former State employe his or her State annuity shall be paid from State annuity reserve fund number two

Section 2 That section twelve of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Disability Retirement and Former Employes Disability Annuity

Section 12 Retirement upon disability shall be made and discontinued as follows

(1) (a) Upon the application of a contributor or of one acting in his or her behalf or upon the application of the head of his department the retirement board shall retire said contributor on a disability allowance if he or she is under the superannuation retirement age and on a superannuation allowance if he or she has attained or passed such age

(b) Upon the application if filed on or before December thirty-first one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven of any former State employe or of one on his or her behalf who after ten or more years of service was retired or separated from such service before the approval of the act to which this is an amendment because he or she was physically or mentally incapacitated for duty the retirement board shall award and thereafter such former employe shall receive a State annuity equal to thirty per centum of his or her average annual salary for the five years of service immediately preceding such retirement or separation from the service

Provided The physician or physicians designated by the retirement board after a medical examination of said contributor or former employe made at the place of residence of such [contributor] person or at a place mutually agreed upon shall certify to the retirement board that said contributor or former employe is physically or mentally incapacitated for the performance of duty and that said contributor ought to be retired And provided further That said contributor has had five or more years of service as a State employe

(2) Once each year the retirement board may require any disability annuitant while still under the superannuation retirement age to undergo medical examination by a physician or physicians designated by the retirement board said examination to be made at the place of residence of said beneficiary or other place mutually agreed upon Should such physician or physicians thereupon report and certify to the retirement board that such disability beneficiary is no longer physically or mentally incapacitated for the performance of duty or that such disability beneficiary is able to engage in a gainful occupation and should the retirement board concur in such report then the amount of the State annuity shall be discontinued or reduced to an amount that shall not be in excess of the amount by which the amount of last year's salary of thebeneficiary as a State employe exceed his present earning capacity

(3) Should any disability annuitant while under the superannuation retirement age refuse to submit to at least one medical examination in any year by a physician or physicians designated by the retirement board his or her State annuity shall be discontinued until the withdrawal of such refusal and should such refusal continue for one year all his or her rights in and to the State annuity constituted by this act shall be forfeited

(4) Upon the application of any beneficiary under the superannuation retirement age drawing a disability retirement allowance under the provisions of this act said beneficiary may be restored to active service by the head of the department in which he or she served at the time of his or her retirement Upon the restoration of a beneficiary to active service his or her retirement allowance shall cease and he or she shall assume membership in the retirement association

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. FRANK D. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. FRANK D. EVANS. Mr. Speaker, there seems to be some misunderstanding as to the reason why I made the motion to recommit House Bill No. 414 to the committee for a hearing. I wish to state that the primary reason for the motion was that I have information in my hands that several patients had been refused admittance to the Hospital and that the hospital had refused to take some of the recognized medical professional men into the hospital; also when their institution burned down and the medical doctors in that particular vicinity got together and passed a resolution not to appropriate any more than fifty dollars apiece for the rebuilding of it, and I think that would bear investigation. Why should a medical doctor only appropriate fifty dollars toward rebuilding the institution. It was merely upon these questions that I asked to have it recommitted to the committee pending an investigation of these important questions.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's remarks will be spread upon the journal.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, probably there has been a misunderstanding in this House tonight, and the question arises whether or not certain institutions are sectarian. I wish to state to the members of the House that I, as a member of the Appropriations Committee, along with other members of the Committee, went into the question very carefully as to whether any of the bills that were reported out were sectarian or not. We inquired from the Department of Welfare, as well as from the Auditor General's department, which has made a thorough study of all these institutions, and I hold a certification from the Department of Welfare, as well as from the Auditor General's department, relating to the Spencer at Meadville, reading as following: "This is to certify that Spencer Hospital, Meadville, has not by us been considered as sectarian, and no such action has been taken by any court of which I have knowledge". The certificate is in similar language in all cases. In order to give light upon this queston and inform the members on any bills that may come up, relating to hospitals, I offer these certificates that I hold for the record.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Department of Welfare, Harrisburg, March 29, 1927.

Mr. Albert Smith, Clerk, House Appropriations Committee,
Harrisburg, Penna.

My dear Mr. Smith: This is to certify that Spencer Hospital, Meadville, has not by us been considered as Sectarian and no such action has been taken by any court of which I have knowledge.

Very truly yours,
E. GRACE McCAULEY,
Secretary of Welfare.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. CHRISTIAN MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CHRISTIAN MILLER. Mr. Speaktr, had this explanation been made by the gentleman from Allegheny I think it would have put a different aspect of the vote that was cast on this bill. Now, I know personally there are members sitting right around me that had that explanation been made they would not have voted as they did.

SPEAKER BLUETT IN THE CHAIR.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 927, as follows:

An Act to amend section three hundred and eleven four hundred and four and four hundred and twelve of and to add article six (a) to the act approved the eleventh day of July one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred ninety-eight) entitled "An act for the prevention and treatment of mental diseases mental defect epilepsy and inebriety regulating the admission and commitment of the mental patients to hospitals for mental diseases and institutions for mental defectives and epileptics governing the transfer discharge interstate rendition and deportation of mental patients providing for the payment by individuals counties or the Commonwealth of the cost of the admission care and discharge of mental patients and imposing penalties"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section three hundred and eleven of the act approved the eleventh day of July one thousand nine hundred and twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws nine hundred ninety-eight) entitled "An act for the prevention and treatment of mental diseases mental epilepsy and inebriety regulating the admission and commitment of mental patients to hospitals for mental diseases and institutions for mental defectives and epileptics governing the transfer discharge interstate rendition and deportation of mental patients providing for the payment by individuals counties or the Commonwealth of the cost of the admission care and discharge of mental patients and imposing penalties" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 311 (a) Any person mentally defective may be placed and detained in a proper State or licensed school for mental defectives by order of the court of common pleas or other court of record or the juvenile court of the county in which such person is or resides upon the sworn or affirmed petition of any parent guardian or other responsible person addressed to the said court praying that the said person may be placed therein The said petition must be accompanied by a sworn or affirmed certificate of a qualified physician that it is his opinion that the said person is mentally defective and a proper subject for commitment to a school for mental defectives in the said certificate the physician shall further state the facts of his own observation and any other information upon which his said opinion is based It shall be in other respects in form similar to that prescribed by the department for the admission of persons mentally ill to a hospital for mental diseases

The said petition shall be in form prescribed by the department and shall state the name sex age and residence of the person alleged to be mentally defective the opinion of the petitioner that the said person is mentally defective and such other facts as may be required by the department if the facts or any of them are unknown to the petitioner it shall be so stated in the petition

Thereupon the said court or a judge thereof may in his discretion appoint a day for a hearing of the said petition and if he shall appoint a day for a hearing he shall cause notice thereof to be given to the proper parties in interest and in his discretion he may or may not require the presence of the alleged mentally defective person at said hearing If it shall be made to appear to the court or judge that the said person is mentally defective and a proper subject for commitment to a school for mental defectives and that the best interests of the person or the safety and welfare of the public require such commitment the court shall make an order committing such mentally defective person to the school named in the petition and direct his removal thereto by a proper officer or person but before any person shall be admitted under the provisions of this section to any school for mental defectives the consent of the managers trustees or superintendent thereof to such admission shall have been obtained

At the said hearing the said court or judge shall inquire as to the estate of such mentally defective person and if the same be sufficient for the purpose shall make an order directing the payment therefrom of the cost of clothing and other support of such mentally defective person in said school otherwise that such payment be made by the husband or parent of such mentally defective person if it appear that the circumstances of such husband or parent are such as to make such an order proper and advisable Where the estate of said mentally defective person is insufficient and the circumstances of said husband or parent are not such as to warrant such an order for the payment of clothing and other support or either of them the expense of clothing of said mentally defective person shall be paid for by the said county in which such mentally defective person resides and all other support shall be provided for by the Commonwealth at such per capita rates as shall be appropriated by the Legislature on the application of the trustees or managers of the said school after submission of the same to and approval by the department

When any mentally defective person shall have been committed to any school under the provisions of this sub-section by a juvenile court the managers or superintendent of said school have authority to detain such person after he shall have reached the age of twenty-one years and thereafter in the discreation of said managers or superintendent such person may be discharged or allowed a leave of absence upon order of the court of common pleas or other court of record or a judge thereof of the county in whichthesaid commitment was made

(b) When any person detained in any prison penitentiary reformatory or other penal or correctional institution whether awaiting trial or undergoing sentence except upon conviction for murder in the first degree shall in the opinion of the superintendent jail-physician warden or other chief executive officer of the institution or other responsible person be mentally defective or when any person charged with a criminal offense and released on bail pending trial therefor shall in the judgment of any responsible person be a mental defective the said superintendent jail-physician warden other chief responsible officer of the institution or other responsible person shall in the case of a person detained in an institution and said responsible person in other cases may make application upon a form prescribed by the department to a law judge of the court having jurisdiction of the charge against said person believed to be mentally defective or under whose order he is detained for the examination and if necessary the commitment of said person to a proper institution for mental defectives

After the completion of the Cumberland Valley State Institution for Mental Defectives all applications for the commitment of male mental defectives over sixteen years of age who have been arraigned and convicted or who are in custody on a criminal charge shall request the commitment of such persons to said Cumberland Valley State Institution for Mental Defectives

The judge to whom application shall be made as hereinbefore provided shall forthwith order an inquiry by two qualified physicians or by a commission as provided by section three hundred and four of this act who shall immediately examine the person alleged to be mentally defective and make written report of their findings to the said judge If in their opinion the said person is mentally defective the physicians shall so state in a certificate conforming to the requirements of section three hundred and two of this act or the commission in a report conforming to the requirements of section three hundred and four of this act They shall also report whether in their opinion such person is of criminal tendency The said judge may in his discretion summon other witnesses and secure further evidence and if he shall then be satisfied that the person alleged to be mentally defective is in fact mentally defective he shall order his commitment to an institution for mental defectives or if detained in a prison penitentiary reformatory or other penal or correctional institution his transfer to an instituton for mental defectives Provided That after the completion of the Cumberland Valley State Institution for Mental Defective males over sixteen years of age committed or transferred under the provisions of this subsection shall be committed or transferred to the Cumberland Valley State Institution for Mental Defectives

If the person found to be mentally defective and committed to an institution under this subsection is awaiting indictment or trial or has been arraigned or is being tried proceedings against him shall be stayed until his condition become such that he can leave the institution His condition becoming such that he may be released from the institution for mental defectives he shall if he was previously confined in a prison penitentiary reformatory or other penal or correctional institution be returned upon proper order of the court to the institution from which he was transferred for the disposition of the charges against him or the completion of his sentence and if he was a convict serving a sentence the time which he was in the institution for mental defectives shall be computed as part of the term for which he was sentenced If he was committed to the institution for mental defectives before trial he shall upon being released from the institution for mental defectives be returned to the court having jurisdiction over him for trial or such other disposition of such charges as the court may lawfully make

The expense of examination including the fees of physicians or commissioners and all costs incidental to the commitment or transfer and of maintenance in the institution for mental defectives shall be paid by the county in which the person committed or transferred was charged with or sentenced for crime

Section 2 That section four hundred and four of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 404 The board of trustees of any mental hospital and the superintendent thereof when given general or special authority therefor by such board of trustees or the person in charge if there be no board of trustees shall have the power and authority to discharge any patient from such hospital if in their or his opinion no harm will arise from such action but no insane criminal under sentence and no person charged wth any crime and ecquitted on the ground of insanity shall be discharged from such hospital without an order of the court in which he was sentenced or acquitted authorizing such discharge No patient who is known to be homicidal or otherwise dangerous to be at large shall be discharged without examination by and the written consent of the department nor without a sufficient guarantee by the person for said patient's support and care that the safety of the public or any individual shall be safeguarded No patient whose parent guardian or friend liable for his support shall oppose his discharge shall be discharged without notification to such parent guardian or friend and opportunity given him to state his reasons for wishing the said patient's further detention and no mentally defective person or inebriate who has been committed by an order of court except in the case of a person discharged by lapse of time from leave of absence or escape and except in case such inebriate has been under hospital care for one year shall be discharged without the recommendation of the chief medical officer in charge and an order from the court

A mentally defective who has been arraigned and convicted or was in custody on a criminal charge prior to his transfer to an institution for mental defectives shall not be discharged under the foregoing provisions before he might have been discharged from the prison penitentiary reformatory or other penal or correctional institution from which he was originally transferred to the institution for mental defectives

A mental defective forty-five years of age and over not having criminal tendencies and no longer requiring treatment training and custody in an institution for mental defectives may upon recommendation of the superintendent and trustees with the approval of the Depaartment of Welfare be returned to the county to which he or she belongs provided that in cases committed by a court the consent of said court shall first be obtained

Section 3 That section four hundred and twelve of said act is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 412 Any mental patient except such as has been charged with any crime and acquitted on the ground of insanity or arraigned or convicted who has been absent with or without leave for a period of twelve months continuously from the hospital in which he was under care shall be deemed to be discharged from the said hospital and cannot be readmitted except as provided by law in Article III of this act but this section shall not apply to the case of mental defectives who shall be on indefinite leave of absence when away from the institution which defectives may be returned to the institution without new commitment unless formally discharged

Section 4 That said act is hereby amended by adding thereto the following article

(d) The Secretary shall request the testing agency to submit a report of each type of device of the Secretary in duplicate For those which are found to comply with the specifications and requirements the report shall include any special adjustments required and the candlepower rating of the bulbs for such conformance Reports of all tests shall be accesiblbe to the public and a copy thereof shall be furnished by the Secretary to the applicant for the test

Section 807 Illegal Sale of Lighting Devices

It shall be unlawful for any person to sell or to offer for sale either separately or as a part of the equipment of a motor vehicle any head lamp auxiliary driving lamp rear lamp or signal lamp approved by the Secretary unless such device bears thereon the trade-mark or name under which it is approved so as to be legible when installed and is accompanied by printed instructions as to the candlepower of bulbs to be used therewith as approved by the Secretary and any particular methods of mounting or adjustment as to focus or aim necessary for compliance with the requirements of this Act

Section 808 Revocation of Certificates of Approval of Lighting Devices

Any certificate of approval however heretofore or hereafter issued may be revoked by the Secretary after a hearing before the Secretary or his representative of which the person named therein or his successor in interest shall be given reasonable notice or opportunity to hear or be heard upon the grounds that the lighting device does not comply with the provisions of this Act regulations adopted or is not being supplied in production in accordance with specifications original blue print assemblies or samples lighting devices originally submitted However revocation of certificates of approval of lighting devices heretofore or hereafter approved shall not take effect until three (3) months after decision of the Secretary revoking same

The Secretary may adopt uniform standard specifications for head lamps auxiliary driving lamps rear lamps signal Lamps and may promulgate certain rules and regulations not inconsistent with this Act to govern his decision in approving any lighting device or revoking any certificate of approval issued for a lighting device

All certificates approving lighting devices heretofore issued by the Secretary shall expire and be void on and after July first one thousand nine hundred twenty-eight unless the manufacturer has prior to that date made application for renewal submitting samples for tests in accordance with the provisions of the Act together with the fee provided in this Act and new certificate of approval has been issued

Certificates approving each type this of headlamp device hereafter issued by the Secretary will expire and be void after two (2) years from date of issue unless the manufacturer has prior to the expiration date made application for renewal of such certificate furnishing one (1) pair of samples for test purposes in accordance with this act together with the fee provided in this act and new certificate of approval has been issued

Certificates approving each type of auxiliary driving lamp rear lamp and signal lamp hereafter issued by the Secretary will expire and be void after two (2) years from date of issue unless the manufacturer has prior to the expiration date made application for renewal of any such certificate furnishing one (1) sample for test purposes in accordance with this act together with fee provided in this act and new certificate of approval has been issued

When no renewal application is made and when an application for renewal of Certificate of Approval is refused the headlamp auxiliary driving lamp rear lamp or signal lamp will become illegal for use on motor vehicles after two (2) years from date of expiration of Certificate Provided however new motor vehicles will not be titled unless the lighting devices are of an approved type for which certificates of approval are in effect at the time of application for title

Section 809 Enforcement and Authority to Refuse Title or Registration

(a) A Head Lamp or auxiliary driving lamps will be presumed to project a glaring or dazzling light if the top of any main beam of light projected by it or them is at a distance of twenty-five (25) feet ahead of the motor vehicle on an approximately level stretch of highway projected on the body of a person or on a motor vehicle or on any object at a height greater than the distance of the centers of the lamps from the highway and in no case shall the top of the beam of light be higher than forty-two (42) inches above the highway seventy-five (75) feet ahead of the motor vehicle

(b) The operator of any motor vehicle equipped with approved headlamps auxiliary driving lamps rear lamps or signal lamps who is arrested upon a charge that such lamps are improperly adjusted or are equipped with bulbs of a candlepower not approved for use therewith shall be allowed forty-eight (48) hours within which to bring such lamps into conformance with the requirements of this act It shall be a defense to any such charge that the person arrested produce in Court or submit to the mayor burgess magistrate or justice of the peace a certificate from an official adjusting station showing that within forty-eight (48) hours after such arrest such lamps have been made to conform with the requirements of this act

(c) The Secretary may refuse to title or issue registration for any motor vehicle the lighting devices of which are not approved for use in this State

Section 810 Lights on Parked Motor Vehicles

Whenever a motor vehicle is parked or stopped upon a highway whether attended or unattended during the time when lights are required by this act may in lieu of the lighting equipment specified in this act show one (1) white or green light carried on the left side of the motor vehicle visible under normal atmospheric conditions from a distance of five hundred (500) feet to the front of such vehicle and projecting a red light visible under like condition from a distance five hundred (500) feet to the rear Provided that local authorities may by ordinance or rule or regulation establish zones within which motor vehicles may remain standing without lights

Section 811 Red Light Visible from in Front of Vehicles

No person shall operate or move any vehicle upon a public highway with a red light displayed on the front thereof

Section 812 Official Adjusting Stations

The Secretary is authorized to designate furnish instructions to and to supervise official stations for adjusting head lamps and auxiliary driving lamps to conform with the provisions of this act The establishment of official Headlight Adjusting Stations shall mean the designation of any place which shall comply with the requirements for a test station as determined by the Secretary When head lamps and auxiliary driving lamps have been adjusted in conformity with the instructions issued by the Secretary a certificate of adjustment shall be issued to the owner or operator of the motor vehicle on a form prescribed by the Secretary and showing date of issue registration number of the motor vehicle owner's name make of vehicle and official designation of the adjusting station

If the Secretary finds that the business of any official adjusting station is being poorly or badly conducted he may revoke the designation of such station

Section 813 Brakes

Every motor vehicle when operated upon a highway shall be equipped with brakes adequate to control the movement of and to stop and to hold such vehicle including two separate means of applying the brakes each of which means shall be effective to apply the brakes to at least two (2) wheels and so constructed that no part which is liable to failure shall be common to the two except that a motorcycle need be equipped with only one (1) brake All such brakes shall be maintained in good working order and shall conform to regulations not inconsistent with this act to be promulgated by the Secretary

Section 814 Horns and Warning Devices

(a) Every motor vehicle when operated upon a highway shall be equipped with a horn or other warning device in good working order capable of emitting sound audible under normal conditions from a distance of not less than two hundred (200) feet and it shall be unlawful except as otherwise provided in this Act for any vehicle to be equipped with or for any person to use upon a vehicle any siren compression or sparkplug whistle or for any person at any time to use a horn or other warning devices otherwise than as a reasonable warning or to make any unnecessary or unreasonable loud or harsh sound by means of a horn or other warning device

(b) Every police and fire department and fire patrol vehicle and every ambulance used for emergency calls may be equipped with a bell siren or exhaust whistle of a type approved by the Secretary

Section 815 Mirrors

No person shall operate a motor vehicle on a highway which motor vehicle is so constructed or loaded as to prevent the operator from obtaining a view of the highway to the rear by looking backward from the operator's position unless such vehicle is equipped with a mirror so located as to reflect to the operator a view of the highway for a distance of at least two hundred (200) feet to the rear of such vehicle Provided that persons who have less than two (2) per centum of normal hearing to whom an operator's license has been issued shall be required to have any motor vehicle which they may operate equipped with a mirror attached and adjusted to enable them to see traffic approaching from the rear

Section 816 Windshields Must be Unobstructed and equipped With Wipers

(a) It shall be unlawful for any person to operate any motor vehicle upon a highway with any sign poster or other non-transparent material upon the front windshield side wings side or rear windows of such motor vehicle other than a certificate or other required paper to be so displayed by law

(b) Every windshield on a motor vehicle shall be equipped with a device for cleaning rain snow or other moisture from the windshield which device shall be so constructed as to be controlled or operated by the operator of the vehicle

Section 817 Obscene or Vulgar Signs or Markings

It shall be unlawful for any motor vehicle to be operated upon any highway having on any part of such vehicle or its legal attachments thereto any plates cards tags letterings or markings of an obscene or vulgar nature

Section 818 Prevention of Noise Smoke Et Cetera Muffler Cut-Outs Regulated

(a) No person shall operate a motor vehicle on a highway unless such motor vehicle is equipped with a muffler in good working order and in constant operation to prevent excessive or unusual noise and annoying smoke

(b) It shall be unlawful to use "muffler cutout" on any motor vehicle upon a highway

(c) No vehicle shall be driven or moved on any highway unless such vehicle is so constructed or loaded as to prevent its contents from dropping sifting leaking or otherwise escaping therefrom

Section 819 Chains and Tires

(a) Every solid rubber tire on a vehicle moved on any highway shall have rubber on its entire traction surface at least one (1) inch thick above the edge of the flange of the entire periphery

(b) No tire on a vehicle moved on a highway shall have on its periphery and block stud flange cleat or spike or any other protuberances of any material other than rubber which projects beyond the tread of the traction surface of the tire except that it shall be permissable to use farm tractors and other machinery with tires having protuberances which will not injure the highway and except also that it shall be permissible to use tire chains of not less than five (5) cross chains or which do not project more than one (1) inch upon the outside surface of the periphery of the wheel of any vehicle when required for safety because of snow ice or other conditions tending to cause a vehicle to slide or skid

(c) The width of rubber tires for the purpose of this Act shall be ascertained by measuring the width of tire at the base of channel or between the flanges of the metal rim except pneumatic tires the width of which shall be determined by measuring the greatest width of tire casing The width of metal tires shall be determined by measuring the width of contact of tire with the road surface

Size Weight and Construction

Section 901 Scope and Effect of Regulations

It shall be unlawful for any person to operate or move or for the owner to cause or knowingly permit to be driven or moved on any highway any vehicle or vehicles of a size or weight exceeding the limitations provided in this Act or any vehicle or vehicles which are not so constructed or equipped as required in this Act or the rules and regulations of the Secretary adopted pursuant thereto and the maximum size and weight of vehicles herein specified shall be lawful throughout this Commonwealth and the Secretary and local authorities shall have no power or authority to alter said limitations except as express authority may be granted in this Act

Section 902 Size of Vehicles and Loads

(a) No vehicle except fire department equipment shall exceed a total maximum width including any load thereon of ninety-six (96) inches except that the width of a farm tractor shall not exceed one hundred eight (108) inches and excepting further that the limitations as to size of vehicles stated in this Act shall not apply to implements of husbandry temporarily propelled or moved upon the highway or vehicles loaded with hay or straw in bulk

(b) No vehicle except fire department equipment shall exceed a total maximum height including any load thereon of one hundred seventy-four (174) inches

(c) No vehicle except fire department equipment shall exceed a total maximum length including any load thereon of three hundred ninety-six (396) inches and no combination of vehicles coupled together shall exceed a total maximum length of eighty-five (85) feet

1 No motor vehicle shall be operated upon any highway drawing or having attached thereto more than one other vehicle except that a motor vehicle with semi-trailer may draw in addition thereto one (1) other vehicle

2 Whenever the connection consists of a chain rope bar or cable there shall be displayed upon such connection a red flag or other signal or cloth not less than twelve (12) inches both in length and width

(d) No train of vehicles or no vehicle operated alone shall carry any load extending more than three (3) feet beyond the front thereof

(e) No vehicle except as herein provided shall carry any load extending beyond the line of the fenders on the left side of such vehicle nor extending more than six (6) inches beyond the line of the fender on the right side thereof

Section 903 Flag or Light at end of Load

Whenever the load on any vehicle shall extend more than four (4) feet beyond the rear of the classis bed or body thereof there shall be displayed at the end of such load in such position as to be clearly visible at all times from the rear a red flag not less than twelve (12) inches both in length and width except that between one (1) hour after sunset and one (1) hour before sunrise there shall be displayed at the end of any such load a red light plainly visible under normal atmospheric conditions at least two hundred (200) feet from the rear

Section 904 Weight of Motor Vehicles and Loads

(a) Commercial motor vehicles truck tractors and road tractors other than those electrically operated shall not be used or operated on any highway with gross weight including chassis body and load exceeding those specified for the several classes and weights of chassis as follows

Class	Chassis Weight in Pounds	Maximum Gross Weight in Pounds
R	Less than 200	500
S	2000 and over but less than 3000	7000
T	3000 and over but less than 4000	11000
U	4000 and over but less than 5000	13000
V	5000 and over but less than 6000	18000
W	6000 and over but less than 7500	22000

Y	7500 and over but less than 9000	25000
Z	9000 and over	26000

(b) Electrically operated commercial motor vehicles truck tractors and road tractors shall not be used or operated on any highway with gross weight including chassis battery body and load exceeding those specified for the several classes and weights of chassis as follows

Class	Maximum Gross Weight in Pounds Chassis Battery Body and Load
R	5000
S	7000
T	11000
U	15000
V	18000
W	22000
X	25000
Y	26000

(c) No motor vehicle or trailer except fire department equipment shall be operated upon any highway with a gross weight of vehicle and load combined in excess of twenty-six thousand (26,000) pounds or in excess of nineteen thousand five hundred (19,500) pounds on any axle or in excess of eight hundred (800) pounds on any one wheel for each nominal inch of width of tire on such wheel

(d) No truck tractor and semi-trailer combined except fire department equipment shall be operated upon any highway with a gross weight of vehicles and load combined in excess of thirty-nine thousand (39,000) pounds or in excess of nineteen thousand five hundred (19,500) pounds on any axle or in excess of eight hundred (800) pounds on any one wheel for each nominal inch of width of tire on such wheel axle or axles of semi-trailer shall not be less than ninety-six (96) inches from the axle of the truck tractor

Section 905 Officers May Weigh Vehicles and Require Removal of Excess Load

Any police officer member of the State Police Force or designated representative of the Department who shall be in uniform and shall exhibit his badge or other sign of authority having reason to believe that the weight of a motor vehicle trailer or semi-trailer and load is unlawful is authorized to weigh the same either by means of portable or stationary scales or may require that such vehicles be driven to the nearest stationary scales in the event such scales are within a distance of two (2) miles The officer may then require the operator to unload immediately such portion of the load as may be necessary to decrease the gross weight of such vehicle to the maximum gross weight specified in this Act except as herein provided for special permits and further provided that no arrest shall be made nor shall removal of any portion of the load be required in cases where the maximum gross weights provided in this Act are not exceeded by more than ten (10) per centum thereof

Section 906 Permits for Excessive Size and Weight

The secretary and local authorities in their respective jurisdictions may in their discretion upon application in writing accompanied by the fee provided in this Act and good cause being shown therefor issue a special permit in writing authorizing the applicant to operate or move a vehicle of a size and weight exceeding the maximum specified in this Act upon any highway under the jurisdiction of and for the maintenance of which the authorities granting the permit are responsible Every such permit shall be issued for a single trip and shall designate the route to be traversed and contain any other restrictions or conditions deemed necessary by the authority granting such permit Every such permit shall be carried in the vehicle to which it refers and shall be open to inspection by any Police Officer Member of the State Police Force or designated representative of the Department

Section 907 When Authorities May Restrict Right to Use Highways

The Secretary and local authorities may by ordinance or resolution or ruling prohibit the operation of vehicles upon any highway or impose restrictions as to the weight of vehicles and their loads for a total period not to exceed ninety (90) days in any one (1) calendar year when operated upon any highway under the jurisdiction of and for the maintenance of which such Secretary or local authorities are responsible whenever any said highway by reason of deterioration rain snow or other climatic conditions will be seriously damaged or destroyed unless the use of vehicles thereon is prohibited or the permissible weights thereof reduced The Secretary and local authorities enacting or making any such ordinance or resolution or rules shall erect or cause to be erected and maintained signs designating the provisions of the ordinance or resolution or rules at each end of that portion of any highway affected thereby and at intersections thereof and the ordinance or resolution or rules shall not be effective until or unless such signs are erected and maintained The Secretary or local authorities may also by ordinance or resolution or rules prohibit the operation of motor vehicles trailers or semi-trailers on designated highways as to the weights and loads thereon which prohibitions and limitations shall be designated by appropriate signs placed on such highways and their intersections

Section 908 Regulating Weight of Vehicles on Bridges

Where any bridge causeway or viaduct owned or maintained whether owned in whole or in part by this Commonwealth or local authorities shall have a sign properly posted in a conspicuous place at the entrance thereto stating the gross maximum weight permitted thereon it shall be unlawful for any person to drive or cause to be driven upon any such bridge causway or viaduct any vehicle which together with its load shall be of greater gross maximum weight that is mentioned in such sign

Operation of Vehicles Rules of the Road

Section 1001 Reckless Driving

(a) any person who drives any vehicle upon a highway carelessly and heedlessly in wilful or wanton disregard of the rights or safety of others or without due caution and circumspection and at a speed or in a manner so as to endanger or be likely to endanger any person or property shall be guilty of reckless driving

(b) If investigation into an accident arising from the use and operation of a motor vehicle discloses that the accident occurred due to the front seat of the motor vehicle having been occupied by more than three (3) persons the operator shall be guilty of reckless driving

(c) No person shall participate in any physical endurance test or any race or speed contest with a motor vehicle on any highway

Section 1002 Restrictions as to speed

(a) any person driving a vehicle on a highway shall drive the same at a careful and prudent speed not greater than is reasonable and proper having due regard to the traffic surface and width of the highway and of any other conditions then existing and no person shall drive any vehicle upon a highway at such a speed as to endanger the life limb or property of any person

(b) subject to the provisions of subdivision (a) of this section and except in those instances where a lower speed is specified in this act it shall be prima facie lawful for the driver of a vehicle to drive the same at a speed not exceeding the following but in any case when such speed would be unsafe it shall not be lawful

(1) Fifteen (15) miles an hour when approaching within fifty (50) feet of a grade crossing of any steam electric or street railway when the driver's view is obstructed A driver's view shall be deemed to be obstructed when at any time during the last two hundred (200) feet of his approach to such crossing he does not have a clear and uninterrupted view of such railway crossing and of any traffic on such railway for a distance of four hundred (400) feet in each direction from such crossing

2 Fifteen (15) miles an hour when passing a school during school recess or while children are going to or leaving school during opening or closing hours

3 Fifteen (15) miles an hour when approaching within fifty feet (50) feet and in traversing an intersection of highways when the driver's view is obstructed A driver's view shall be deemed to be obstructed when at any time during the last fifty (50) feet fo his approach to such intersection he does not have a clear and uninterrupted view of such interesection and of the traffic upon all of the highways entering into such interesction for a distance of two hundred (200) feet from such intersection

4 Fifteen (15) miles an hour in traversing or going around curves or traversing a grade upon a highway when the driver's view is obstructed within a distance of one hundred (100) feet along such highway in a direction in which he is proceeding

5 Twenty (20) miles an hour on any highway in a business district as defined herein when traffic on such highway is controlled at interesections by traffic officers or stop-and-go signals

6 Fifteen (15) miles an hour on all other highways in a business district as defined herein

7 Twenty (20) miles an hour in a residence district as defined herein and in public parks unless a different speed is fixed by local authorities and duly posted

8 Thirty-five (35) miles an hour under all other conditions

It shall be prima facie unlawful for any person to exceed any of the foregoing speed limitations except as provided in subdivision (c) of this section In every charge of violation of this section the complaint also the summons or notice to appear shall specify the speed at which the defendant is alleged to have driven also the speed which this section declares shall be prima facie lawful at the time and place of such alleged violation

(c) Local authorities in their respective jurisdictions are hereby authorized in their discretion to increase the speed which shall be prima facie lawful upon through highways at the entrances to which vehicles are by ordinance of such local authorities required to stop before entering or crossing such through highways Local authorities shall place and maintain upon all through highways upon which the permissible speed is increased adequate signs giving notice of such special regulations and shall also place and maintain upon each and every highway intersecting any said through highway appropriate stop signs which shall be illuminated at night or so placed as to be illuminated by the headlights of an approaching vehicle or by street lights

Section 1003 Railroad Warning Signals Must Be Obeyed

Whenever any person driving a vehicle approaches a highway and interurban or steam railway grade crossing and a clearly visible and positive signal gives warning of the immediate approach of a railway train or car it shall be unlawful for the driver of the vehicle to fail to bring the vehicle to a complete stop before traversing such grade crossing

Section 1004 Vehicles Must Stop at Certain Railway Grade Crossings

The Secretary is hereby authorized to designate particulary dangerous grade crossings of steam or interurban railways by highways and to erect signs thereat notifying drivers of vehicles upon any such highway to come to a complete stop before crossing such railway tracks and whenever any such crossing is so designated and sign posted it shall be unlawful for the driver of any vehicle to fail to stop within fifty (50) feet but not less than ten (10 feet from such railway tracks before traversing such crossing

Section 1005 Speed Limits of Commercial Motor Vehicles with Pneumatic Tires

No commercial motor vehicle or truck tractor or road tractor with pneumatic tires as classified in this act shall at any time be operated at a rate of speed exceeding the following

Class	Miles per Hour
R	26
S	24
T	24
U	22
V	19
W	19
Y	16
Z	14

Section 1006 Speed Limits of Commercial Vehicles with Solid Rubber Tires

No commercial motor vehicle or truck tractor or road tractor with solid rubber tires as classified in this act shall at any time be operated at a rate of speed exceeding the following

Class	Miles Per Hour
R	24
S	20
T	20
U	18
V	15
W	15
Y	12
Z	10

Section 1007 Special Speed Limitation on Bridges

It shall be unlawful to drive any vehicle upon any public bridge causeway or viaduct at a speed which is greater than the maximum speed which can with safety to such sturcture be maintained thereon when such structure is signposted as provided in this section

The Secretary or other proper state body or any local authority shall upon request or upon their own initiative may conduct an investigation of any public bridge causeway or viaduct under their respective jurisdictions and if it or they shall thereupon find that such structure cannot with safety to itself withstand vehicles traveling at the speed otherwise permissible under this act the Secretary or other State body or local authorities shall determine and declare the maximum speed of vehicles which such structure can withstand and shall cause or permit suitable signs stating such maximum speed to be erectel and maintained at a distance of one hundred (100) feet before each end of such structure

Secton 1008 When Speed Limit not Applicable

The speed limitations set forth in this act shall not apply to vehicles when operated with due regard for safety under the direction of the police in the chase or apprehension of violators of the law or of persons charged with or suspected of any such violation nor to fire department or fire patrol vehicles when traveling in response to a fire alarm nor to public or private ambulances when traveling in emergencies This exemption shall not however protect the driver of any such vehicle from the consequences of a reckless disregard of the safety of others

Section 1009 Drive on Right Side of Highway

Upon all highways of sufficient width except upon one way streets the driver of a vehicle shall drive the same upon the right half of the highway and shall drive a slow moving vehicle as closely as possible to the righthand edge of curb of such highway unless it is impracticable to travel on such side of the highway and except when overtaking and passing another vehicle subject to the limitations applicable in overtaking and passing set forth in this Act

Section 1010 Keep to the Right in Crossing Intersections or Railroads

In crossing an intersection of highways or the intersection of a highway by a railroad right of way the driver of a vehicle shall at all times cause such vehicle to travel on the right half of the highway unless such right half is obstructed or impassable

Section 1011 Meeting of Vehicles

Drivers of Vehicles proceding in opposite direction shall pass each other to the right each giving to the other at least one-half of the main traveled portion of the highway as nearly as possible

Section 1012 Overtaking a Vehicle

(a) The driver of any vehicle overtaking another vehicle proceeding in the same direction shall pass at a safe distance to the left thereof and shall not again drive to the right side of the highway until safely clear of such overtaken vehicles

(b) The driver of an overtaking motor vehicle not within a business or residence district as herein defined shall give audible warning with his horn or other warning device before passing or attempting to pass a vehicle proceeding in the same direction

Section 1013 Limitations on Privilege of Overtakng and Passing

(a) The driver of a vehicle shall not drive to the left side of the center line of a highway in overtaking and passing another vehicle proceeding in the same direction unless such left side is clearly visible and is free of oncoming traffic for a sufficient distance ahead to permit such overtaking and passing to be made in safety

(b) The driver of a vehicle shall not overtake and pass another vehicle proceeding in the same direction upon the crest of a grade or upon a curve in the highway where the driver's view along the highway is obstructed within a distance of five hundred (500) feet

(c) The driver of a vehicle shall not overtake and pass any other vehicle proceeding in the same direction at any steam or electric railway grade crossing nor at any intersection of highways unless such intersection is controlled by stop-and-go signals or unless permitted so to do by a traffic or police officer

Section 1014 Driver to Give Way to Overtaking Vehicle

The driver of a vehicle upon a highway about to be overtaken and passed by another vehicle approaching from the rear shall give way to the right in favor of the overtaking vehicle on suitable and audible signal being given by the driver of the overtaking vehicle and shall not increase the speed of his vehicle until completely passed by the overtaking vehicle

Section 1015 Following Too Closely

(a) The operator of a motor vehicle shall not follow another vehicle more closely than is reasonable and prudent having due regard to the speed of such vehicles and the traffic upon and condition of the highway

(b) The operator of any commercial motor vehicle truck tractor or road tractor when traveling upon a highway ortside of a business or residence district shall not follow another such vehicle within one hundred (100) feet but this shall not be construed to prevent one such vehicle overtaking and passing another such vehicle

Section 1016 Turning at Intersections

(a) Except as otherwise provided in this section the driver of a vehicle intending to turn to the right at an intersection shall approach such intersection in the lane for traffic nearest to the right-hand side of the highway and in turning shall keep as closely as practicable to the right-hand curb or edge of the highway and when intending to turn to the left shall approach such intersection in the lane for traffic to the right of and nearest to the center line of the highway and in turning shall pass beyond beyond the center of the intersection passing as closely as practicable to the right thereof before turning such vehicle to the left

For the purpose of this section the center of the intersection shall mean the meeting point of the medial lines of the highways intersectng one another

(b) Local authorities in their respective jurisdictions may modify the foregoing method of turning at intersections by clearly indicating by buttons markers or other direction signs within an intersection the course to be followed by vehicles turning thereat and it shall be unlawful for any driver to fail to turn in a manner as so directed when such direction signs are installed by local authorities

(c) Local authorities when proper signs are erected may prohibit turning at intersections

Section 1017 Signals on Starting Stopping or Turning

(a) The driver of any vehicle upon a highway before starting stopping or turning from a direct line shall first see that such movement can be made in safety and if any pedestrian may be affected by such movement shall give a clearly audible signal by sounding the horn and whenever the operation of any other vehicle may be affected by such movement shall give a signal as required in this section plainly visible to the driver of such other vehicle of the intention to make such movement

An Act for the protection of the public health with reference to the production, sale and distribution of milk, cream, pasteurized milk, skimmed milk and buttermilk, providing for the issuing of certificates or permits to vendors and distributors thereof, creating a Board of Sanitary Milk Control, imposing certain duties and conferring certain powers upon the Department of Health of this Commonwealth and upon the various municipal, borough and township health authorities, prescribing penalties and making appropriations therefore.

Which was committed to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

Mr. SALUS read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 1153, entitled:

An Act making it unlawful for any individual or individuals to associate themselves, by whatever name, style or designation, for the purpose of carrying on or making investigations, inquiring into, reports upon, or disseminating publicity regarding any civic, political or other activities of any city or township, unless upon the filing of a certificate to that effect in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and of the prothonotary; requiring county commissioners at the expense of the county to provide books for the entry of such certificates; fixing the fees of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and prothonotary; permitting the cancellation of such certificate or an entry to be made on the margin of the book, in which such certificate was entered, showing who have withdrawn from the said association; providing a method therefor; and prescribing penalties.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR SENATE BILL NO. 147.

Mr. BOYD offered the following resolution, which was twice read, considered and agreed to:

In the Senate, March 30, 1927.

Resolved, (If the House of Representatives concur), That ties of the third fourth and fifth classes

An Act fixing the salary of county commissioners in counties of the third fourth and fifth classes.

be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of amendment.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

PRESENTATION TO MR. W. HARRY BAKER.

Mr. EARNEST. Mr. President, before Mr. Baldrige became Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, he was, as we all know, a judge in this State; and he had a hearing in a bigamy case on one occasion, and Wife No. 1, after the testimony had been heard, came up to chambers and said that she would like to talk the case over with the judge. As all good judges do, he said, "Madam, I am sorry but I cannot discuss this case with you. I must hear both sides." And the woman said, "Well, that is very true. I am sorry that I came up to talk the case with you." And she left. About a week or ten days later Judge Baldrige got a great, heavy letter; and he opened it and found it was from this woman, who wrote, "Judge, I came some time ago to talk a case over with you and you told me, very properly, that you could not hear one side of the case; so here I am going to tell you both sides."

Well, I was asked a few minutes ago to present to the Secretary of the Senate—and everybody says "the genial Secretary of the Senate"—a vase with flowers. The vase is coming. The flowers are beautiful. The vase—or vaze,—down in Lehigh County a man met another one and said, "Well, we have a new baby at our house." His friend said, "That is fine. I congratulate you. A boy or a girl?" The father of the baby said, "Why, it is a girl." Then he was asked, "What are you going to name her?" The father said, "Well, I don't know. My wife wanted to call her 'Wiolet,' but I can't pronounce that wery well, so we had to call her 'Chenny'." The vase, or vaze,— whatever you wish to call it —is beautiful.

What I wanted to tell you is this: Everybody speaks so well of Harry Baker, and now I want to tell you both sides. He is not as young as he looks. This is his birthday. And next to one other fellow he is the worst golfer in Harrisburg! Possitively!

But he is a pretty good fellow. We all love him, and we are all pleased to recognize his birthday. One thing that you all know is, that Harry Baker has a wonderful memory. I know of no one who can begin to compare with Harry Baker in the matter of memory. Here is just a little incident: During the inauguration there were very many conferences of one sort or another, and about a week after one conference, in which a group of men were participating and most of them talked and talked considerably, I met Harry and he referred to the conversation; and he knew what each man had said about a particular thing. I think that is remarkable.

But I don't want to overpraise him. He would not like that. My talk, of necessity, ought to be short; and so I will try to make it. However, there comes to my mind a little incident that someone else used, and while I do not recall it exactly the incident ran something like this: Those who essay to go up Pike's Peak are happy and joyous and gay at the bottom of the mountain, when they begin their cimb. Halfway up some of them drop out; and the rest, who go on, button up their coats a little tighter about them and put their coat collars up. They breathe with a little less regularity, and there is not so much talking and laughing; but they go on. Those who finally get to the top,—and there are a few of them—find, when they look down, the most beautiful vision below them.

And so, as we climb the mountain of life, we find, when we get near to the top, that a beautiful vision unfolds below us. And that vision is more beautiful if we have made friends,—it is made so by the handclasps of friendship and the good deeds and the service that we have rendered. It is these things that count most when we look back.

And Harry Baker, as he climbs the mountain of life, can look back at any point and get a vision that will be beautiful, because everywhere he will see friends or have the recollection of friends who have gone long ago to their reward And he will see that vision because he has always been so friendly, so kindly. And it gives me great pleasure to present to him this vase and these flowers—from whom?—not from the members of the Senate but from the men in the transcribing room, the employes there who love Harry Baker as day by day they come in contact with him in whatever walk of life they may be.

I therefore present this little gift, with the appreciation of the folks in the transcribing room and their best wishes for a long and continued happy life.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. President, Senator Earnest, members of the Senate and employees:

I am grateful for these flowers and this beautiful vase, but there is nothing that I appreciate more than my friends and I am proud of them, and my hope and ambition is that in going through life I may not only maintain the friendship of those with whom I become associated but also add new ones each year.

If I can know that in any way, I have lightened the burdens in the life of any one, it will not only give me a feeling of great satisfaction but will be my lasting reward. It is my ambition to continue in that kind of usefulness. If I can be of service, you all know where to find me, as the latch string is always out.

Again I thank you, and I know my family will appreciate this vase and these flowers as much as I do.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 650 (House Bill No. 704), as follows:

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 604, on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and three of the act approved the twenty-ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred and twenty-five (P. L. 359) entitled "An act conferring on the Department of Highways the right to change or protect existing stream channels on private lands adjacent to highways in order to protect the highways in a proper manner and providing for the approval of said changes by the Department of Forests and Waters" by dispensing with the necessity of securing the consent of the owners of property affected by any change made under the provisions of the act and further providing that any damages occassioned shall be paid by the county wherein the section of highway affected is located be recommitted to the Committee on Public Roads and Highways.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I want to express my appreciation of the courtesy of the Senator from Franklin in allowing this bill to go over, yesterday, so that I might have a chance to speak in opposition to it. On Monday evening we had a spirited colloquy here between the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, and the Senator from Clinton, Mr. Quigley, on the hunter's license increase, in which the Senator from Bucks expressed my sentiments exactly as to what a representative here ought to be and ought to do. He said that telegrams and letters delegations and hearings to the contrary notwithstanding, he was here to represent his constituents to the best of his judgment and ability. That, I believe, is the real definition of representative government. If they do not like the representative, they can throw him out. Incidentally, I hope that the people of Bucks County will send Senator Buckman here to represent them for another hundred years.

I may be in a minority of one on this resolution, but I feel it is my duty as a representative to speak against it. The resolution may not affect the Homsher bill and it may not affect the Harris bills or the Weingartner bills. What I am particularly concerned about is the affect of this resolution upon the bills for voting machines. The Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Davis, has introduced Senate Bill No. 1, and this resolution will certainly destroy that bill. And what is not quite so obvious but appeals to me very strongly is that a commission which is to report in 1929 will eectually handicap the growing sentiment in this State to pass the Harris Bill and to amend our State Constitution in favor of voting machines in 1928. That is my particular objection.

In general I think it is decidedly a confession of weakness to appoint a commission of this kind at this time. It is not quite fair to indict the whole Senate and accuse them of ducking on this question. We have a worthy indignation and contempt for the Senator who ducks a bill, and I would not like to indict the whole Senate as ducking this question.

Mr. President, the Republican Organization, has been in labor; and this is the child. The doctor has been Dr. W. L. Mellon. He may be a very good family physician. He is a rising young practitioner. I would say, perhaps he needs a little more experience and a little more practice. He certainly is not a skillful obstetrician. I do not like the looks of the baby! This child is on our doorstep. I would not for a moment accuse the Senator from Franklin of being the father, but he certainly is the guardian; and I would like to advise my genial friend from Franklin to take this infant and consign it to an institution for feeble-minded children.

Now the Republican Organization, having had a miscarriage, has a complication which is known as "the wobble". In fact, the members of the Senate have got "the wobble", one of the symptoms of which is "cold feet". When we wobble on our cold feet, is it any wonder that the public and the press pluck our fine feathers, or any wonder that the people with important measures go to the "third house", or to any house except this house, when they want to get influence and votes?

We have the cold comfort of seeing the Governor of this State humiliated as we often are. Mr. President, the main question is whether we are honest-to-God Senators or bellhops! When the manager of this outfit rings the bell and calls "Front", do we respond, or do we say, "Mr. Manager, go to h——|"?

"Front" is the word. We put up a bold front. I have been to many Senate banquets. I have heard the after-dinner speakers announce in glowing terms that we are the grandest bunch of men that ever lived. I have heard the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania extolled,—with forty-six thousand square miles and nine millions of population—as the grandest Commonwealth that ever issued bonds to pay for the pike along which we journey. I have listened in occasionally to the Chaplain's prayers, I have heard him assure and reassure the Lord that we are the grandest lot of men that ever sat here.

Mr. President, I would like to believe this, but after the vote on this resolution,—all Senators voting "aye" on this resolution, I hope that Mr. Baker, as it is his birthday, will invite them to a short, snappy prayer-meeting in the room at the rear of the Senate Chamber, and let them there get down on their knees and tell the Lord what they do stand for.

Now, I understand I am skating on thin ice, and I may be hurting somebody's feelings. I hope I am not. But I would not presume to stand here and say these perhaps unkind things if I did not know there are many men in this Chamber who feel very much as I do about it. I know that the Senator from Lehigh, Mr. Schantz, who is absent on account of illness, would, if he were here back me up. He addressed the League of Women Voters in Philadelphia last week very much along the same line. But I hope you will understand that I take pride in my position as a Senator, and I am most anxious that the whole Senate shall live up to its better self; and that is what encourages me to make these criticisms. And here, in this resolution that seems so innocent, it seems to me is a real test of whether what we hear at the banquets is mere rhetoric; or are we going to vote out a resolution which is completely unnecessary?

If this commission were to study the geological formation of bituminous coal deposits, or questions of taxation or Workmen's Compensation,—there are a dozen subjects particularly insurance subjects, for a commission to study for two years; but I submit to the Senate that we are all politicians, and if there is one thing we do understand it is election laws,—or we would not be here! If it were any other subject I would not stand here and say a word, but I don't believe that this commission will know anything more in 1929 than we know in 1927. And therefore I will ask the Senate if they will be kind enough to vote this resolution down; and when the eloquent Senator from Franklin, Mr. Bonbrake, gets up, or the energetic Senator from Lackawanna, Mr. Davis, stands up, I trust that the Senate will not believe a word they say, but that it will either vote the resolution down or consign it to the Committee on New Counties and County Seats,—they have room for another infant, I am sure, in that committee,—or to the Committee on Pensions and Gratuities,—anywhere for a decent burial, Mr. President.

Mr. BONBRAKE. Mr. President, it is now and has been for a long time a well-recognized fact that the election laws of Pennsylvania are in rather a conglomerate state, and the probability is that after this session of the Legislature they will be in worse shape because of the numerous laws that have been passed and are likely to be passed at this session; and there is every reason why a commission should be appointed to amend and to revise the election laws of Pennsylvania and to study laws that will bring our system up to the minute, and to report in two years from now.

This is a measure which has been agreed upon, as the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, has intimated, by the administration as well as by the organization; and I ask you to pass the bill.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, though not wishing to criticise any Senator on the floor, it does me some good to have a Republican stand up in the Senate this year and advocate what Senator Woodward advocated. We have been talking election matters for some years in Pennsylvania, and I agree with the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, that if there is one thing we all understand and are ready to vote on, it is election matters. And if there is one thing in Pennsylvania that the people understand, and about which they will demand that something be done, it seems to me it is election matters. And we are here, and we are qualified and we are prepared and have the time to consider the subject, why should we not vote on it now?

Everybody knows,—the public knows, as well as we know here—that this resolution is merely a matter of delay. Why, we have studied this subject,—we had a session of the Legislature in 1926 actually for no other purpose than to discuss and pass upon election matters. The public has been educated about it, and the Governor has talked about it; in his Inaugural he talked about it, in his campaign he talked about it; and since then the boss of the State, Mr. Mellon, has talked about it in the newspapers. We have all heard about it, and we are prepared.

I appreciate the embarrassing position in which the majority of these Senators find themselves. I also appreciate the fact that if the big hand be moved, the men here will pass proper election legislation at this time. They are prepared to do it. They want to do it. They discuss it on the outside. They are familiar with it. All they need is a free hand. And now in all fairness, it seems to me that after a contest that has never been equaled in the State of Pennsylvania, a contest in 1926 in which a candidate received the nomination on the Republican ticket and polled at the general election more than six hundred thousand less votes than were polled by the Republican Party at the primary, and he loses all the counties of this State but twelve, the time has arrived for the Republican Party to assist in removing the restrictions on election and allow the people to say what they desire to say, and allow them to feel that when they cast their ballots the ballots will be counted as they were cast. I hope this resolution will be voted down.

Mr. BONBRAKE. Mr. President, if the purpose of this resolution had been delay, then I submit to the reasonable minds of the Senate that no election bills would have been passed at this session of this body.
